"INSIDE" STORY OF MACHINE RULE RELATED TO JURY BY T. ROOSEVELT

The Colonel Pounded the Judge's Bench With Fist and Slapped Hands Together as He Told of the Wickedness of "Bosses."

BARNES AND MURPHY POLITICAL PARTNERS, ROOSEVELT DECLARES

The Colonel Also Tells of His Dealings With the Late "Easy Boss" Platt. Roosevelt Says Barnes Declared That "Bosses" Were Inseparable From Party Government.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 21.—Theodore Roosevelt spent five hours on the witness stand in the supreme court here today telling what he said he believed was the inside story of machine politics and boss rule in New York state. By so doing the former president hoped to convey to the jury, trying the $50,000 suit William Barnes brought against him for alleged libel, the impression that he was justified in criticising Mr. Barnes.

Barnes-Murphy Combine.

Colonel Roosevelt swore he had been reliably informed that the "Murphy democrats" and the "Barnes republicans," the latter under the leadership of Mr. Barnes, united on more than one occasion to defeat the plans of independent men of both parties in the state legislature. And Mr. Barnes told William Loeb, Jr., the witness emphatically declared, that he had an ironclad agreement with Charles F. Murphy, of Tammany Hall, to allow Murphy a free hand to select a United States senator. Mr. Loeb was private secretary to Colonel Roosevelt when he was president, and later was collector of the port of New York.

The witness told in detail of his dealings with the late Senator Platt, the man he had described as the "easy boss." Platt, the colonel asserted, attempted to dictate the man he, as governor of the state of New York, should appoint to be superintendent of public works. But, said Colonel Roosevelt, with a considerable display of pride, when he told Mr. Barnes of the conversation he added that he didn't intend any man should say whom he should appoint to office. Mr. Barnes, however, sided with Mr. Platt, saying the organization leader should have complete control of it, the witness swore.

Denies He Holds Malice.

The colonel gave what he represented to be the details of his conversation with and what he had been informed were the actions of Mr. Barnes in regard to direct primaries legislation, race track legislation and opposition on the part of the republican machine to Governor Hughes.

He related, too, the information former Governor Sulzer and his investigator, John A. Hennessy, gave him regarding alleged corruption in certain state departments. And, as a conclusion, he denied that he held any malice toward Mr. Barnes, and added that he considered he was championing the cause of good government against bipartisan boss rule when he caused the publication of the offending statement.

Tomorrow Colonel Roosevelt will submit to cross-examination at the hands of William M. Ivins, chief of the Barnes counsel.

During his stay on the stand today, the colonel seemed to be even more at his ease than he was yesterday. He argued with Mr. Barnes' attorneys, who constantly interrupted him with objections. He pounded on the judge's bench with his fist. He brought the palms of his hands together with resounding slaps.

One instant the expression on his face was solemn, and the next it was jovial. He tries his best to get into the records things he wanted to get in, and he made suggestions to his counsel as to where this letter or that paper might be found. Once he smilingly engaged in a discussion with Justice Andrews, presiding.

Colonel Toyed With Gold Chain.

And while the opposing lawyers themselves engaged in arguing legal points with Justice Andrews, the colonel, patient and calm, toyed with the massive gold watch chain stretched across his chest, drummed with the tips of his fingers on the bench beside him, and looked from jury box to lawyers, from lawyers to spectators and from spectators to the presiding justice. When the arguments were over, he invariably would turn to Justice Andrews, smile broadly and, after addressing him as "judge," ask whether he might proceed.

Mr. Barnes paid particular attention to his opponent during this session of court. He listened to every word the colonel said, and occasionally turned to the table occupied by his counsel to make a note upon a pad of paper. Several times during the day he left his seat and walked to the other end of the table to whisper to Mr. Ivins. Usually these whispered conferences resulted in the attorney jumping to his feet and offering an objection. Mr. Ivins fought all day to keep the colonel from getting into the records things counsel for the plaintiff apparently wanted to keep out. With but a few exceptions, however, the court ruled in a manner which permitted the colonel to tell the better part of the story he was trying to relate.

Court Bars Much Evidence.

Before Colonel Roosevelt took the stand counsel representing both sides and the court discussed in chamber legal questions in regard to what should or should not be admitted in

Dr. White Sued for $20,000 By Manager of Mill Theater

Pastor of Baptist Tabernacle Charged With "Intoxication Upon the Exuberance of His Own Verbosity" by A. K. Jones.

SUED FOR LIBEL

REV. J. L. WHITE.

STANDS BY STATEMENT.

"I stand by whatever I said." This was the statement made by Dr. J. L. White last night when asked by a Constitution reporter if he had any comment to make on the damage suit filed against him. "I am not seeking notoriety, but when I think things in this city need correction, I consider it my duty to speak out."

In a suit for $20,000 damages for malicious slander, filed against him yesterday by the management of the Mill theater, Rev. J. L. White, pastor of the Tabernacle, was charged with "intoxication upon the exuberance of his own verbosity," and "of courting the spotlight through false, malicious scandal."

The charge was made by A. K. Jones, manager of the Mill theater, which Rev. White arraigned in his Sunday morning sermon at the Tabernacle. Jones alleges that the pulpit attack greatly damaged his business and injured the theater's revenue to such an extent that his own personal profit was decreased $15 daily.

Statement Causing Suit.

The suit quotes Dr. White as having said in his sermon:

"There is one place in our city which presents, so far as I am able to discover, nothing that could be called decent. It is the Mill theater. It can be said, to the credit of our good people, that this place is not being largely patronized. Very few women are ever seen in it. I don't see how the management can afford to run it, but since it is being run, and is of such a character as to be vulgar and indecent, it ought to be closed immediately."

In defense of the theater, which is a 10-cent vaudeville house, employing a number of chorus girls and women principals, the Mill manager says in his suit that he is complying with the city ordinances of Atlanta, and that his performance is weekly passed upon by police and other censoring agents.

Malice Is Charged.

"In the presence of divers worthy and good citizens, and while defendant was perhaps under intoxication on the exuberance of his own verbosity," the suit reads, "and in an effort to gain the spotlight, falsely and maliciously spoke of the plaintiff in malicious, scandalous and defamatory words."

Jones asks damages of $20,000. He charges that previous to the attack of the Tabernacle minister he had been earning a personal revenue of $25 daily, but that since Dr. White's arraignment his profit had been decreased to only $10 a day.

I KNOW BECAUSE--

"I know, because I saw it in The Constitution."

You hear the phrase every day and its very finality testifies to the esteem in which Constitution readers hold their favorite newspaper.

The message of the Constitution carries confidence, and the same confidence goes out to the intelligent advertiser.

That explains the pull of Constitution advertising.

People not only read it but they accept it at its correct value.

They patronize the Constitution advertiser because he has gained their confidence.

If he repays in kind they become permanent and valued customers.

Honest advertising is most productive when used in The Atlanta Constitution.

Pool Rooms Are Blamed By Seven Chicago Boys For Criminal Careers

Chicago, April 21.—Seven youths who pleaded they entered criminal careers through loitering in pool rooms were given prison sentences in Chicago courts today. In sentencing Edwin Kremheller, 18, and Thomas Wardell, 26, to twenty-five years in the penitentiary for killing a bartender, Judge Adelor Petit, of the criminal court, said:

"I intended sentencing you to life imprisonment, but I must consider the fact that the pool rooms where you started on lives of crime are permitted to operate by the city."

Five others were sentenced to various terms for robbery.

LESSON IN MANNERS AND IN NEUTRALITY GIVEN BERNSTORFF

President Wilson Himself Pens Reply to Recent Attack on United States by the Kaiser's Ambassador.

BREAK BY BERNSTORFF WILL BE OVERLOOKED

The President, However, Defends Course of United States During the War, and Suggests That Bernstorff Is Evidently "Laboring Under Certain False Impressions."

Washington, April 21.—The United States replied today to the recent memorandum, in which Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, declared that "if the American people desire to observe true neutrality they will find means to stop the exclusive importation of arms to one side, or at least to use this export trade as a means to uphold the legitimate trade with Germany, especially the trade in foodstuffs."

The American note, signed by Secretary Bryan, was drafted at the state department but was finally penned by President Wilson himself. After pointing out that the language used by Count von Bernstorff "is susceptible of being construed as impugning the good faith of the United States in the performance of its duties as a neutral," the note "takes it for granted that no such implication was intended," and suggests that evidently the German ambassador "is laboring under certain false impressions."

Hint to Von Bernstorff.

It then declares that while the relations of the United States with any one of the belligerents "cannot wisely be made a subject of discussion with a third government" such correspondence between the United States and the allies as has been published shows "the steadfast refusal" of the American government "to acknowledge the right of any belligerent to alter the accepted rules of war at sea insofar as they affect the rights and interests of neutrals."

The attitude of the United States on the question of exportation of arms is restated—namely that to place an embargo on arms during the progress of a war would be "a direct violation of the neutrality of the United States." The note refers to the spirit of friendship which the United States desires always to manifest toward Germany and its people and concludes with the declaration that the neutrality of the United States "is founded upon the firm basis of conscience and good will."

$60,000 PLUNDER TAKEN BY THIEVES, CLAIMS DR. GRANT

Tells Police Board That 90 Per Cent of 4,000 Vacant Houses Have Lost Plumbing Recently.

URGES POLICE TO STOP LOAFING IN POOL ROOMS

Young Women Robbed by Fortune Tellers, He Says. Earl Moran Makes Complaint Against Beavers.

When Dr. Horace Grant, who recently severely criticised Chief Beavers and the police department as inefficient, offered to give testimony last night to the probe committee of the police board, he declared that he would not allow Police Chief Beavers to cross-question him, or be cross-questioned by any one, as a witness who had preceded him had been done.

Dr. Grant was backed up in his view by Commissioner Bob Clarke, who objected to Chief Beavers cross-examining citizens who had come by invitation to police barracks to complain against the police.

For Better Police Protection.

When Dr. Grant took the stand he said:

"I am not on trial. I come here at your special invitation to offer suggestions for improving the efficiency of the police department. What I say will be in the interest of Atlanta, and better police protection for its citizens.

"You cannot put me under oath as you did the witness preceding me. I represent a large class of property owners, who have chosen me as their spokesman. I am not kicking against the police or any special policeman.

"I want to ask that you gentlemen in your investigation of inefficiency charges of the police department find some method of giving relief to a large class of property owners, who, like myself, are suffering at the hands of plumbing thieves who rob vacant houses.

"There are 4,000 vacant houses in Atlanta, and 90 per cent of these within the last six months have had the plumbing stolen from them. We ought to have some protection.

"I am not foolish enough to think the police ought to stand in front of these vacant houses, and catch some plumbing thief as he emerges from a vacant house, carrying with him a bath tub of a valuable water heater, but some of these robbers ought to be caught.

$60,000 Plunder Secured.

"Fully $60,000 worth of plumbing has been stolen from these houses in six months. Idle plumbers and junk dealers are committing all the mischief. Houses are looted every night and every day.

"There are many good men on the police department, which consists of men who are not of a foreign element. They are Atlanta born and Atlanta raised, and are excellent men.

"The detective department's records will show that it is doing good work. Its chief is efficient.

"BUT there is something radically wrong, which is hindering the police department as a whole from doing good work.

"They say that the newspapers are responsible for this investigation by you gentlemen of the police board's committee, but the newspapers, we must all remember, have nothing but the community's interest at heart.

"In the presence of Chief Beavers I want to ask him why he does not investigate the numbers of loafers who hang around pool rooms. He knows that they are loafers, I know it, and this class of men are allowed to go free.

Young Women Robbed.

"In my work in the city I run across scores of young women who are robbed by fortune tellers. Is there not a city ordinance that prohibits fortune tellers operating in the city? They disguise themselves as phrenologists, but phrenology is a science about which not one of these so-termed phrenologists possess any knowledge. Chief Beavers knows they are telling 'fortunes.'"

Dr. Grant then condemned the police barracks as insanitary, unfit for ladies to come to, and filthier than any like institution in a city the size of Atlanta anywhere. In conclusion, he urged the members of the probe committee to provide protection for the owners of vacant houses.

There were no other citizens present to either make complaints against the department or offer suggestions for its improvement and the relief of the citizens of burglars.

Two representatives of the Anti-Saloon league were on hand, but they left the hall without testifying.

Moran Assails Police.

Earl A. Moran, 58 West Peachtree street, bitterly assailed the police chief and many members of the police force. He told the committee that on April 1 he had been forced to move from 36 Garnett street because Chief Beavers and other officers would not put a stop to a lewd house that was openly operating next door to him.

"Thirty-five men came to my door by mistake in one night and insulted my wife, thinking they were in the house next door," said Moran. "The police were notified of this, and refused to make any investigation.

"Some time ago I was robbed of $7 by a pickpocket, who was later turned loose by the police, or some one.

"In his private office Chief Beavers called me a 'crook,' which he had no right to do, as my record is clean. I informed the police a number of times that a gambling den was being run next door to me, but they did nothing. Some one was getting 'graft' out of the gambling house, and I was assured that I was mistaken about the house, and often told that I was crazy."

Moran Cross-Examined.

At this point Chief Beavers was allowed to cross-examine Moran, to which Commissioner Clarke seriously objected.

Moran declared that he was not afraid of the chief's questions, and even went so far as to call the names of two lewd women whom he said he had reported to the police.

Moran said that the day prior to the investigation by the committee the police had arrested one of the women and tried her before Recorder Johnson.

"I was forced to move because I couldn't rent rooms in the neighborhood in which I lived. The police would do nothing for me. They are

Shoppers Crushed When Falling Wall Wrecks Big Stores

Three-Story Buildings in Birmingham, Crowded With Customers, Crushed Like Eggshells When the Wall of Burned Building Topples During Storm.

Birmingham, Ala., April 21.—More than a dozen people are thought to have been killed and a score are known to have been injured when the five-story wall of the old Steel-Smith building, on Second avenue, crashed down on the Hann shoe store and Atlantic and Pacific Tea company store here late this afternoon.

The stores were crowded with shoppers at the time.

Atlanta Man a Victim.

At 1 o'clock this morning four bodies had been recovered from the ruins. They were Alex McLeod, manager of the Hann Shoe company; J. H. Whitlock, of Atlanta, traveling auditor of the Atlantic and Pacific Tea company; Miss Marie Denman and an unidentified negro.

Rescuers had cleared about half of the smaller building, but had made practically no impression on the three-story affair. Among the seriously injured are James K. Shook, both legs broken; Miss Mary Lou Denman and Miss Nellie Devine.

Rescuers this morning expressed the opinion that there were at least ten bodies still in the ruins. There is little likelihood that the work of searching the debris will be completed before Thursday night.

Among the known missing are George W. Darnell, Miss Melia Eddinger, J. E. Ray, Miss Ruth Johnson and Irving Millbrant.

Fell During Storm.

The Steel-Smith building was burned last December and the single wall had been standing since that time. It fell during a heavy rain and windstorm. The two store buildings were crushed in and employees and patrons were caught in the wreck.

Fire broke out in the ruins of the shoe store, but it was quickly extinguished.

The first body removed from the debris was that of A. E. McLeod, manager of the Tea company. He was badly mangled, nearly every bone in his body being broken.

John H. Whitlock, auditor of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company, lived at 92 Lucile avenue. At his home last night it was stated that he was on a trip to Birmingham, and that no message had been received from or about him Wednesday.

MAYOR TO DEFEND PURCHASING PLAN

Mayor Woodward will not sit by and see radical changes made and the city purchasing department abolished by the general council without making a fight. He stated Wednesday that it appeared he was the people's only representative in the matter, and he proposed to represent them.

The amendment to the ordinance creating the department was passed by council Monday, and a sufficient number of votes has been mustered to assure its passage today by the aldermanic board.

"They are trying to kill one of the best departments the city has," said the mayor. "It saved us $74,000 last year, which can be seen from the records. I hate to get involved in another fight, but I feel it my duty to represent the people in this matter."

The mayor made it plain he would return the measure to the general council without his approval, which means it will have to be passed over his veto before becoming a law.

The amendment takes the appointing of the purchasing agent out of the hands of the mayor and makes him elective by the general council. It also provides that all contracts involving more than $500 must be let by council, and not by the department, as formerly.

It also means that upon its passage the general council will elect a purchasing agent, W. E. Chambers, the incumbent, and a brother of Attorney Aldine Chambers, is the choice of several members of the general council, who will urge his election by that body.

Councilman A. W. Farlinger, chairman of the council finance committee, and a member of the purchasing department, says he has given much of his time in working for the good of the department, and he feels keenly the action of general council in attempting to make a change.

"I have my desk next door to the office of the purchasing department, and have given much of my time in looking after nearly all purchases made for the city," said Mr. Farlinger. "I fear that in putting the matter before the general council the department will become so involved in politics that it will be in worse condition than ever before."

Mr. Farlinger said he did not believe that the general council would override the mayor's veto after carefully reading the amendment to the ordinance and learning what changes it contemplated in the department.

$4,000 Fire Damage At Near-Beer Saloon Early This Morning

Fire, believed to have started in the basement, this morning at 1 o'clock, did damage to the extent of about $4,000 at the negro near beer saloon, 43 Decatur street. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

Patrolman John Gresham discovered the fire when he was making an inspection in an alley at the rear of the building and turned in the alarm.

VIOLENT BATTLES ARE IN PROGRESS ON WESTERN FRONT

The Germans Are Making Desperate Counter-Attacks Near Ypres in Effort to Take Hill No. 60 From the British.

BATTLE IN CARPATHIANS ALMOST AT STANDSTILL

Spring Freshets Make Operations in East Nearly Impossible—Airmen on Both Sides Are Busy Dropping Bombs.

London, April 21.—From the Carpathians the violent encounters of the war, for the present at least, have been transferred to Belgium and France. The most sanguinary engagement reported is in progress in Belgium, southeast of Ypres, where the Germans are endeavoring to wrest from the British a strategic point known as Hill 60, which the Britons took several days ago with heavy casualties to both sides.

It is declared that "violent and continual counter-attacks" are being made against the position, two of which were repulsed with great loss to the Germans. Since April 17, Paris says, the Germans have lost in defending and attempting to recapture this hill from 2,000 to 4,000 men.

The battle in the Carpathians virtually has come to a standstill except at isolated spots.

Unofficial advices declare spring freshets have made morasses of the roads, and thus caused the let-up. The battle of greatest importance in this region is reported by Vienna to have taken place between Laborcza and the Ung valley, and it is asserted that the Russians attacked and were repulsed with heavy losses.

FRENCH FIRE STOPS GERMANS.

In the west—in Champagne and the Argonne, between the Meuse and Moselle, and in Lorraine and Alsace—German offensive movements have been stopped by the allies, according to Paris. Near Flirey, it is asserted, another German trench has been captured, giving the French a gain in this region during the past few days of about half a mile.

Airmen are still dropping bombs. The Germans have thrown more than 100 explosive missiles upon Bialystok, Russian Poland; the Russians in retaliation have bombarded the railroad station at Soldau, East Prussia; the British have attacked the German airship hangars at Ghent, Belgium, while French airmen have thrown bombs on the headquarters of the German General von Strantz, in the Woevre, and attacked German convoys in Baden and an electric power plant at Lorrach, Baden, a short distance northeast of Basel, Switzerland.

GAINS CLAIMED BY THE FRENCH.

Paris, April 21.—(Via London.)—The following official communication was issued by the French war office tonight:

"In Belgium an attack was made against a trench won by the British on hill No. 60, near Zwartelene, but was repulsed. The losses of the enemy at this point since April 17 are from 3,000 to 4,000 men.

"In Champagne, near Ville-Sur-

C. F. von HERRMANN, Section Director.

Tourbe, the Germans attempted to attack; our artillery prevented them from leaving their lines.

"In the Argonne, near Bagatelle, a purely local, but very energetic, attack was stopped short by our fire.

"Between the Meuse and the Moselle we repulsed German attacks of varying importance, some of them being merely reconnaissances—one at the Bois d'Ailly, five at the Bois de Montmare and one at the Bois-le-Pretre. We attacked to the north of Flirey and captured another German trench. We established ourselves there and connected it with those which we had previously taken.

"Our gain of the last few days thus extends over a continuous front of more than 200 metres (about half a mile). The enemy left more than 500 dead on the ground.

"In Lorraine there has been an artillery duel. In Alsace we easily repulsed to the east of Hartmannswellerkopf an attack for which preparations had been made by a violent artillery fire.

"Our aeroplanes have bombarded in the Woevre the headquarters of General von Strantz and a number of convoys in the Grand Duchy of Baden, as well as an electric power plant at Lorrach."

RUSSIANS STOP AUSTRIAN ATTACKS.

Petrograd, April 21.—(Via London.) The Russian war office today gave out this official announcement:

"In western Galicia we repulsed an Austrian attack near Gorlitz on Tuesday night. The previous day the enemy had attacked, but without success, our positions in the region of Verkhnila, Jablonka, in the Beskeds of Yablonka, Polen and north Oroszpatak.

"The offensive movement of the enemy against the heights of Polen, previously captured by us, was particularly fierce, and his losses were very great, the first batch of prisoners captured at this point to the number of 500 has been brought in.

Other sections of the front remain as a whole unchanged.

"A German aeroplane squadron on Tuesday dropped in the neighborhood of 100 bombs at Bialystock, Russian Poland, killing and wounding civilians. No material damage was done. Tuesday night the town of Ciechanow was bombarded with boombs by a Zeppelin airship. No damage was done. Our aircraft successfully bombarded the railroad station at Soldau, on the Polish frontier, in East Prussia."

NAUSEOUS BOMBS USED BY FRENCH.

Berlin, April 21.—(Via London.)—German headquarters today gave out this report:

"In the western arena a battery of the enemy observed not far from the Cathedral of Rheims was taken under our fire.

"In the Argonne the French employed a bomb, the effect of which was to cause men to vomit.

"An attack of the enemy to the north of Four de Paris resulted in failure.

"Between the Meuse and the Moselle an attack extending over a large front was repulsed at Flirey yesterday with heavy losses to the French. In the wood of La Pretre we gained further ground.

"In the Vosges the enemy unsuccessfully attacked our positions to the southeast of Matneral and at Sondermach. Here the French suffered serious losses.

"Early yesterday morning an aviator of the enemy dropped bombs on the town of Loerrach, in Baden, damaging a silk factory belonging to a Swiss as well as two other houses and injuring several civilians.

"In the eastern arena there has been no change in the situation.

"In replying to the dropping of bombs by Russians on Insterberg and Gumbinnen, both open towns situated outside of the zone of operations, we dropped 150 bombs yesterday on the railroad junction at Bialystock."

BRITISH REPULSE GERMAN ATTACKS.

London, April 21.—The British war office tonight gave out an official statement dealing with the military operations in the vicinity of Ypres, Belgium, where British troops recently captured Hill No. 60 from the Germans. The statement said:

"Violent and continued counter-attacks still are being made on Hill No. 60. Yesterday afternoon the enemy's activity was renewed and between 6 and 9 o'clock two heavy attacks made by infantry were repulsed with great loss to the enemy. No 60 hill was heavily shelled all night and several further attacks were repulsed.

"A bold and successful attack was made on the enemy's airship harbor and shed at Ghent. The extent of the damage must have been considerable."

750,000 BRITONS FIGHT IN FRANCE.

London, April 21.—The British expeditionary force in France, which, at the beginning of the war, consisted of six divisions, has been increased to more than thirty-six, or, roughly speaking, 750,000 men, according to a statement by David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer, in the house of commons today.

The interesting information also was given that the output of the munition factories had been increased more than 19-fold since the outbreak of the war, but the call was still for more, and, as Mr. Lloyd-George continues to hold the opinion that consumption of liquor is interfering with the work, he promised legislation to deal with this matter.

The figures made public by the chancellor as to the size of the British army in France and the expenditure of ammunition has caused great surprise in England, where the opinion has been general that about half that number of men had reached the front, especially as there has been no sign of any decrease in the number of khaki-clad men training in this country.

FINANCIAL SUCCESS OF OPERA ASSURED

Receipts Will Prove Notable Triumph for Atlanta and for Whole South, Says Directors' Statement.

Following a meeting of the Atlanta Music Festival association directors yesterday afternoon, the following statement was given out containing definite assurance that the 1915 season of grand opera in Atlanta will be a financial as well as brilliant artistic success:

"With the opening of the Metropolitan grand opera season in Atlanta, now only five days distant, we are gratified to be able to announce definitely that the advance sales are such as to indicate beyond any reasonable doubt the financial success of the 1915 season.

"In view of general business conditions we feel that this will be a notable triumph for Atlanta, and for the whole south, which has come generously forward as in past years to patronize this great annual event."

No Call on Guarantors.

While no exact figures are made public, the above statement means that barring Providential hindrances, the opera season this year will be fully self-supporting, as it has been in the past, and that the guarantors have no cause to worry for fear they will be called on for any part of their guarantee.

It is unofficially understood that the sales are now running over $1,000 a day. Plenty of good seats for any and all of the performances are still available, but they are going fast.

The sale is now going on at the Cable Piano company and at Phillips & Crew. It will continue at these two places through Saturday afternoon. All seats reserved but not yet taken up must be taken up by Friday at 6 p. m. or they will be put back in the general pot.

Box Office Location Changed.

On Monday morning, April 26, the sale will be moved to the Auditorium-Armory, where it will continue through opera week. The location of the box office has been changed from where it was last year, and tickets will be sold this year from booths in the windows of Taft hall, opening on Courtland street, between Gilmer street and the main entrance to the Auditorium.

The same hours for performances and the same rules will apply this year as in the past. The matinees begin at 2 p. m. sharp. The evening performances begin at 8 p. m. sharp. No one will be seated when the curtain goes up until the end of the act. The doors will be open at 1 p. m. and at 7 p. m.

Reports at the directors' meeting showed that all preparations had been completed at both ends of the line for a season that will be from a musical and artistic standpoint the most elaborate and beautiful Atlanta has ever had.

The sale of tickets for opera will continue at the stores of the Cable company, on Broad street, and Phillips & Crew, on Pryor street. Tickets which have been reserved, but are yet uncalled for, will be placed back in the box office for resale next Saturday morning if they are not called for by 6 o'clock Friday afternoon.

PREACHER SHOT DEAD AS HE LAY IN BED

Douglas, Ga., April 21.—The sheriff's office here today is at work on the mysterious murder of the Rev. Allen Haskins, which occurred last night at his home at Lellaton. Haskins was a Primitive Baptist preacher. He was shot and killed with a shotgun as he lay asleep in his bed.

Mrs. Haskins told the coroner that her husband and a 4-year-old child were in one room and that she and two older children were in another room. She said that she did not hear a report of the gun.

The coroner's jury reported that Haskins came to his death from a gunshot fired by an unknown person. No arrests have been made.

DIXIE COLLEGE WOMEN TO GATHER HERE TODAY

The annual meeting of the Southern Association of College Women will open this afternoon with a semi-public conference of the deans of women of the several colleges represented in the parlors of the Ansley hotel at 3 o'clock. It is expected that numerous points of much interest to all who are concerned in the collegiate life of young women will be brought out.

Among the prominent deans expected to be present are Dr. Eleanor Lord, of Goucher college; Dr. Irene T. Myers, of Transylvania university, and Dr. May L. Keller, of Westhampton college, president of the Southern Association of College Women from 1912 to 1914.

At the formal opening of the association in the auditorium of the Ansley on Thursday evening, Miss Cleveland Zahner, president of the Georgia branch, will deliver the address of welcome and the response will be made by Miss Elizabeth A. Coton, professor of English in Meredith college and president of the association.

"NEWLYWEDS" DODGE INSISTENT FRIENDS BY LONG AUTO TRIP

The mysterious disappearance early yesterday morning of Mr. and Mrs. Lafayette Montgomery, whose wedding was an event of Tuesday evening, was the source of concern to many friends and relatives and an all-day search was made for them.

It was not until 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon that they were located and it was learned they had gone away early in the day in an automobile and spent the day at Kennesaw mountain and Marietta. They left at 4:45 o'clock in the afternoon for an extended trip in the east.

The couple was scheduled to leave early in the day, but when friends went to the station to see them off they failed to show up. At the ticket window it was learned they had purchased no tickets and on investigation they could not be located at home. They had registered at none of the hotels of the city and in reply to telegrams sent to several cities it was stated that the missing couple had not been seen. Only the parents of the couple knew of their whereabouts.

COTTONSEED CRUSHERS ARE TO MEET AT TYBEE

Savannah, Ga., April 21.—The Southern Cotton Seed Crushers' association has decided to hold its annual convention at Tybee, June 14, 15, 16, according to announcement made here today.

Dr. Ridley's Success.

La Junta, Colo., April 21.—(Special.) Rev. C. A. Ridley, of Atlanta, Ga., has been carrying on a meeting here for three weeks. It is a union meeting of four churches, and up to this time more than 500 have joined the different churches. No such crowds have ever greeted any other man here. The meetings continue.

Robert S. Brown Dead.

Louisville, Ky., April 21.—Robert S. Brown, district passenger agent for the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern railroad, with which he had been connected forty-four years, died at his home here today after a brief illness. He was 61 years old.

MRS. STORY RE-ELECTED HEAD OF DAUGHTERS

Defeated Mrs. Guernsey by a Vote of 695 to 461—Clean Sweep for Story Faction.

Washington, April 21.—Mrs. William Cumming Story, of New York, was tonight re-elected president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution over Mrs. George Thatcher Guernsey, of Kansas, by a vote of 695 to 461.

The election result was announced well after midnight, after a day of excited balloting, and it showed a clean sweep for the Story faction ticket for all of the national officers of the society.

Mrs. Mary S. Lockwood, of Washington, was re-elected chaplain-general without opposition. All the other Story candidates were elected by majorities ranging from 260 to 250. Those elected were:

Recording Secretary-general—Mrs. William C. Boyle, Ohio, re-elected.

Corresponding Secretary-general—Mrs. Julia C. Burrows, of Michigan, re-elected.

Organizing Secretary-general—Mrs. William A. Scott, Virginia.

Registrar-general—Miss Grace M. Pearce, Washington, D. C.

Treasurer-general—Mrs. Joseph E. Ransdell, Louisiana, re-elected.

Historian-general—Mrs. Willard S. Augsbury, New York.

Librarian-general—Mrs. George M. Sternberg, Washington, D. C., re-elected.

Curator-general, Memorial Museum—Miss Catherine B. Barlow, Pennsylvania.

Editor of D. A. R. Magazine—Miss Natalie S. Lincoln, Connecticut.

Vice Presidents-general—Mrs. Rhett Goode, Alabama; Mrs. Edmund P. Moody, Delaware; Mrs. William H. Smith, West Virginia; Mrs. Charles S. Thomas, Colorado; Mrs. William H. Thompson, Kentucky; Mrs. John F. Swift, California; Mrs. John Lee Dinwiddie, Indiana; Mrs. Kent Hamilton, Ohio; Mrs. Samuel McKnight Green, Missouri, and Mrs. Sheppard W. Foster, Georgia.

$100,000 BLAZE RAGES IN ATHENS

Athens, Ga., April 22.—(Special.)—The entire plant of the Southern Cotton Oil company was destroyed here early this morning, entailing a total loss of between $100,000 and $125,000. The blaze had got good headway before it was discovered and the books and records that were in the office were the only things saved. The origin of the fire is unknown.

The Southern Cotton Oil company was one of the biggest plants in Athens and it is expected that work will be begun at once to rebuild. The fire destroyed the following buildings: Oil mills, fertilizer fixing plants, offices, warehouses, stables and several other minor buildings. J. B. Wier is the manager of the plant.

SPITE WORK CHARGE MADE BY YOUNG MAN ARRESTED AND FREED

Charges of idling and loitering against R. Porter Whitley, who was arrested by Patrolman Adams in front of Jacobs' pharmacy, corner of Forsyth and Marietta streets, Wednesday morning about 1 o'clock when he was waiting for a street car to go home, were dismissed by Recorder George E. Johnson in police court Wednesday.

Patrolman Adams then went to the station sergeant's office and booked a case of drunk on the streets against young Whitley, which will be tried this morning.

Whitley is the son of a long-service policeman, Frank Whitley, and has two uncles on the force.

With Whitley at the time of his arrest was a friend, R. T. Walters. Both were waiting for a 1:15 o'clock Soldiers' home car.

They charge that Patrolman Adams arrested Whitley because they had refused to give him a drink of soda water at the pharmacy, where they both work as soda jerkers.

RAILWAY MAIL MEN MEET HERE TUESDAY

The fourth division of the Railway Mail association will hold its annual convention in Atlanta at the Ansley hotel, beginning Tuesday. Delegates will be here from Alabama, Georgia, Florida, South Carolina and Tennessee. C. E. Kimball, Macon, is president; E. D. Carswell, Waycross, vice president, and F. W. Rooney, Atlanta, secretary and treasurer.

PRETTY TAGGERS TO HELP CHARITY

"Tag Day" Is Expected to Net Large Sum for Treasury of the Sheltering Arms Society.

That this will be the most triumphant "Tag Day" in Atlanta's history is the forecast. Tag Day represents the bank account of the Sheltering Arms society and the daily care of 600 little children in Atlanta whose mothers have to work out of the home to support them.

The bank account must cover the expenses of a condition that has been brought upon all elements of people by the war, especially the industrial element. The day nurseries in which the children are cared for have had to increase their facilities.

Tag Day comes but once a year and through it the Sheltering Arms society makes its only appeal to the public.

Let the public open its heart and respond today generously.

UNIQUE CHALLENGE COMES TO HOUDINI FROM OHIO FRIENDS

Houdini, magic worker, who is showing Atlanta this week how to get out of boxes, torture cells and other places of confinement, has received the following unique challenge from Columbus:

Mr. Harry Houdini, Forsyth Theater, Atlanta, Ga.—Dear Harry: We all know that you can get out of water torture cells, packing cases, beer kegs, show cases, straitjackets, handcuffs, prisons and from iron-bound chests at the bottom of the sea, but we all hereby challenge you to get out of Atlanta and come back to Columbus, where you have so many friends, who wish you well. Most cordially, (Signed) George J. Karb, mayor of Columbus; R. L. Barxar, director public safety; Edward C. Turner, attorney general of Ohio; Arthur Casurine, Columbus Dispatch; E. Cook, editor The Citizen; A. C. Johnson, Sr., editor The Inquirer; Harry J. Westerman, cartoonist Ohio State Journal; Alice Coon Brown, dramatic editor Ohio State Journal; W. W. Prosser, manager Keith's theater; Millicent Easter, press agent; Treasurer Feizley, Dick St. John, advertising agent, Columbus, Ohio.

Houdini has also received a challenge from the Red Rock people to escape from a box which they will build. He will make this attempt on Friday night. The employees of the company will be on the stage, and will nail the lid on the box.

CARROLLTON HOST TO GRAND COUNCIL OF ROYAL ARCANUM

Carrollton, Ga., April 21.—(Special.)—The grand council of the Royal Arcanum of Georgia began its annual session in Carrollton Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, with the opening exercises were held in the city hall auditorium. The exercises were presided over by Judge James Beall, and after the opening prayer by Rev. J. M. Dodd, welcome addresses by Mayor R. D. Jackson, for the city; Congressman W. C. Adamson, for the local council; Hon. C. E. Roop, for the chamber of commerce, and W. J. Millican, for the county, were responded to by Judge Taliaferro, master of the Royal Arcanum of Georgia; Judge H. S. West, of Athens; Judge R. H. Russell, of the court of appeals, Atlanta; Judge B. E. Burch, of Dublin, and D. S. R. Frank M. Cline Baltimore.

Following these exercises a business meeting was held in the Masonic hall, and all committees appointed. At noon all visitors were entertained at a barbecue given by the Fourth District Agricultural and Mechanical school. About a hundred delegates, including a number of distinguished Georgians, are here attending the grand council.

BRITISH OF ATLANTA TO ORGANIZE TONIGHT

All natives and descendants of natives of Great Britain are invited to meet at 8 o'clock tonight at the Ansley hotel, to organize a British association.

Just the Meat Of the Corn—
Not the tough outer husk nor the germ—
Goes to make
Post Toasties

Skilful cooking develops the real corn flavour—the nourishment and sweetness of the true sweet meat of the kernels. The corn is then seasoned with sugar and salt, rolled and toasted to appetizing, golden-brown flakes.

They tumble from the big ovens, pass directly into the familiar big yellow cartons, and are sealed in germ-proof, dust-proof wax wrapping. You get Post Toasties, factory-fresh, as crisp, pure and wholesome as when they leave the ovens.

After you have known the true goodness of these sweet meats of the corn, you'll realize why folks everywhere are demanding the

NEGRO SLAIN IN FIGHT OVER DARKTOWN BELLE

A quarrel begun over a month ago, alleged by officers to have been started over a darktown belle, resulted in a fight last night in which one negro was killed and another narrowly escaped being stabbed to death.

Nathan Lumpkin, living at 356 North Butler, was shot in the leg with a shotgun wielded in the hands of Josh Gaston, his next door neighbor, and Lumpkin died on the table at the Grady hospital. Call Officerse Haslett and Evans investigated.

DECATUR TOTS TO GIVE MOTHER GOOSE PAGEANT

Decatur, Ga., April 21.—(Special.)—Arrangements are being made for an elaborate "Mother Goose" pageant in which five hundred children of Decatur will take part.

The pageant will be given on the lawn of Agnes Scott college on the afternoon of May 15. It is being arranged by the Parent-Teacher association, of which Mrs. C. E. Allen is president, and the details will be under the direction of Miss Caroline Cobb, who is an expert in work of this kind.

WILSON SEES CHINA ROUSED BY CHRIST

And Furnishing Momentum to Moral Forces of World. President Addresses Presbytery of Southern Presbyterians.

Washington, April 21.—President Wilson in an address at a meeting here tonight of the Potomac presbytery of the Presbyterian church, pictured a vision of China awakened by the voice of Christ, furnishing a great momentum in future to the moral forces of the world. He declared that as soon as the unity of China was realized its power would come into the world.

"Shall we not see that the parts are fructified by the teachings of Christ?" he asked.

Incidents of Boyhood.

The president's address was devoted largely to incidents of his boyhood, when he assisted his father, a Presbyterian clergyman. "He had the risky habit of saying exactly what he thought," said the president, "a habit which I in part inherited, and of which I have diligently tried to cure myself.

"But he was the best instructor, the most inspiring companion, I venture to say, a youngster ever had, and in facing a southern presbytery I cannot think of myself as the president of the United States; I can only think of myself as the son of Joseph R. Wilson, and I only wish I could claim some of the vital connection with the church which he could claim. Because those who stand outside of the active ministrations of the church, so to say, get an illegitimate usury from it. We do not seem to add a great deal to its capital, but we do live on its investments. We do live on its great investments of spirit."

Christianity Sustains World.

Before Mr. Wilson spoke, Warren H. Stuart, a missionary in China, had told of the great importance for the work for Christianity being done there. The president dwelt upon this in his address.

"When I think of the great bodies of opinion which sustain the affairs of the world, it seems to me that the heart and nucleus of them is the principle of Christianity," he continued, "and that, therefore, the conservation of that great fountain of all that is just and righteous is one of the most important things conceivable, infinitely more important than the things which those of us do who attempt to take some part in administering the external affairs of the world; and when I hear men like Mr. Stuart pleading for the means to introduce this great influence into a part of the world now for the first time feeling its connection with the rest of mankind, now first wakening to the possibilities of the power that lies latent in it, I wonder if it is possible that the imaginations of Christian people will fail to take fire.

An Inspiring Vision.

"Why, this is the most amazing and inspiring vision that can be offered you, this vision of that great sleeping nation suddenly cried awake by the voice of Christ. Could there be anything more tremendous than that? And could there be any greater contribution to the future momentum of the moral forces of the world than could be made by quickening this force which is being set afoot in China? China is at present inchoate; as a nation it is a congeries of parts in each of which there is energy but which are unbound in any essential and active unit, and just as soon as its unity comes, its power will come in the world. Should we not see that the parts are fructified by the teachings of Christ?

"But that is quite apart from what I had come to say. I had not come to speak on foreign missions. I am not competent to speak on foreign missions. I am merely competent to utter my deep allegiance to the things which are represented by bodies of people like this and to express my thanks to God that as a youth and as a man I have been permitted to have some part in them."

NEGRO MAKES ESCAPE BUT IS SOON CAUGHT

Dillard Parks, a negro serving a seven-year term in the county stockade for burglary, enjoyed a few hours of liberty Wednesday after escaping from Wieuca camp, but was finally caught by the county dogs at the river bank, 8 miles from the camp.

Parks had served five years of his sentence and for some time had been a trusty at the camp. While the guards were busy with other prisoners Parks made his escape. At 6 o'clock when the prisoners were checked up he was missing and the dogs were put on his trail. Two hours later he was captured.

"PEOPLE'S PALACES" REPLACE VODKA SHOPS

London, April 21.—A Reuter dispatch from Petrograd says:

"As a substitute for the vodka shops, which have been abolished, there have been erected in the open places throughout Russia 'People's Palaces' and smaller buildings where the people may meet for entertainment and instruction. In the government of Poltava alone 300 of these popular recreation places have been opened or projected. They contain reading rooms and halls for concerts, exhibitions and other entertainments."

SHOT ON HUNTING TRIP, T. C. ROBERSON DIES

Columbus, Ga., April 21.—(Special.)—T. C. Roberson, a young man of Hamilton, Ga., who was accidentally shot by a friend on a hunting trip several weeks ago, died from his wound at the Columbus hospital this morning. His mother, three brothers and three sisters survive him. Interment will take place at Hamilton tomorrow.

CARLTON HALL IN JAIL FOR DEAN BUSHA'S DEATH

Carnesville, Ga., April 21.—Carlton Hall, a young man of this place, is in jail charged with killing Dean Busha, of this place. Hall is night operator at the telephone exchange of this place. Busha had been night guard at the Franklin county convict camp. A warrant has been issued charging Hall with murder.

Fender Store Burglarized.

Tifton, Ga., April 21.—(Special.)—The general merchandise store of H. Segraves & Co., at Fender, seven miles south of Tifton, was burglarized last night. Entrance to the building was effected by forcing the rear door, and a considerable amount of loot was carried off by the burglars.

Florida Bank Closed.

Valdosta, Ga., April 21.—(Special.)—The Commercial Bank of Jennings, Fla., has been taken in charge by the state bank examiner, and is now closed, pending a disposition of its affairs. The information received here relative to the bank's trouble is to the effect that the bank was out of funds, though it is not stated just how this situation came about.

PUBLIC COMFORT STATION IS URGED

L. C. Green Says Several Members of Finance Committee Have Promised the Funds in June Sheet.

Several prominent Atlanta business men Wednesday held a conference with L. C. Green with a view to reviving the movement to secure a modern public comfort station, to be centrally located in the business district. This matter has been agitated for several years and plans and specifications were drawn last year.

Mr. Green, one of the leaders in the movement, has the assurance of several members of the council finance committee that funds for the project will probably be provided in the June money sheet and those behind the proposition are working to secure favorable action on the part of the general council.

"Other cities, some larger and some smaller than Atlanta, have such institutions and it is a shame that we have not such a place for visitors and our own people," said Mr. Green. "We owe it to the people and we have ample space for just such a station at the Peachtree end of the Whitehall street viaduct, adjacent to the Peters building.

"The station could be kept sanitary and in first-class condition and no objection could be raised against it. Of course it would involve some expense, but once started, it would prove so popular that additions would be made. This has been the experience of other cities and in no case of which we have record have they been abandoned, once they have been established."

The citizens' committee at work on the proposition does not favor the proposal of several city officials to establish the station on South Pryor street. They say the location would be unsatisfactory and would not serve its purpose as well as the location on Peachtree street, near Five Points.

The committee will meet again shortly to prepare a report with recommendations to the council finance committee, and urge that money be appropriated for the work.

NEGRO IS CREMATED WHEN JAIL IS BURNED

Athens, Ga., April 21.—The town jail at Winterville was burned about midnight and Ed Johnson, a negro prisoner, the only occupant, was burned to death. He was arrested today and jailed for alleged criminal assault on a negro woman. It is believed that he either set the jail on fire trying to burn his way out, or accidentally set the building afire by going to sleep with a cigarette burning. It was thought he had escaped, till his remains were found in the ruins of the building.

Talmadge Odd Fellows.

Milledgeville, Ga., April 21.—(Special.)—The eleventh division of Georgia Odd Fellows will meet with Talmadge lodge on May 4 at Hardwick, a suburban section. There will be about seventy-five representatives present together with the grand master, the grand secretary of the state and the grand sire of the world. One of the social features of the day will be the barbecue dinner which will be served the guests by the members of Talmadge lodge.

Not Due to Sex Alone

Many women have come to know that sex isn't the reason for all backaches, dizzy headaches and urinary disorders. Men have these troubles, too, and often they come from kidney weakness. To live simply, eat sparingly, take better care of one's self and to use Doan's Kidney Pills is bound to help bad kidneys get better. There are so many thousands of women who can tell you this from experience,

An Atlanta Woman's Experience

Mrs. Charles Eberhardt, 18 Josephine street, Edgewood, Atlanta, says: "I had terrible pains in my back and hips, and I was also bothered by headaches and a tired and nervous feeling. The trouble interfered with my housework; in fact, I had little ambition to do anything when these attacks came on. Since I used two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills, I have been free from kidney complaint."

Finds a Cure For Pellagra

All Skin Eruption Gone, Doctors Now Convinced Mrs. Vaughn Is Entirely Well.

Mrs. C. H. Vaughn, Millville, Ark., writes: "There is nothing I ever could do but what I can do it now. There is no sign of skin eruption. One of our local doctors told me that my cure was one of the grandest things that ever happened—not only for me, but for the whole community, to let them know that there is a cure for pellagra.

"All the doctors that waited on me are convinced that your remedy is a real cure."

There's the true word from a cured patient. If you have Pellagra, or know of anyone who suffers from Pellagra, it is your duty to consult the resourceful Baughn, who has fought and conquered the dreadful malady right in the heart of the Pellagra belt in Alabama.

The symptoms—hands red like sunburn, skin peeling off; sore mouth, the lips, throat and tongue a flaming red with much mucous and choking; indigestion and nausea; either diarrhea or constipation.

There is hope. Get Baughn's Big Free book on Pellagra, and learn about the remedy for Pellagra that has at last been found. Address American Compounding Co., Box 2003, Jasper, Ala., remembering money is refunded in any case where the remedy fails to cure.

LOOKS LIKE RAIN TODAY, ASSERTS WEATHER MAN

Fate and the elements may have gotten sore at the signs of that first Palm Beach suit that blossomed downtown on a dapper young man named Jones (honest that was his name) yesterday afternoon, or it might be due to most anything else, including the opinion of the Fates that the territory has had enough good weather.

One way or the other, clouds have begun to gather and the prediction for today is that there will probably be April showers. Whether they will be abundant showers, or just ordinary summer sprinkles the weather man hardly knows. He only foresees rain of some sort.

It will be the first wet weather in two weeks or more—that is if there really is any wetness.

It is just as liable, you know, to be dry and sunny. Wednesday was foreboding of rain, however, as fleecy clouds began to obscure the sun during the early afternoon, accumulating in size and numbers as the day wore on.

Shortly before midnight last night there was a sprinkle of rain, but it was of short duration. At 1 o'clock another shower fell, and indications were of more rain before the end of the day.

GAINESVILLE CITIZENS ORGANIZE HOSIERY MILL

Gainesville, Ga., April 21.—A new hosiery mill has been organized here with a capital stock of $10,000. Machinery has been ordered, a building rented and as soon as the machinery is installed work will be begun.

The stock was taken by the people of the city at $100 par, per share, rendering it very largely a community enterprise. The mill will employ twenty-five or thirty hands, and will have an annual payroll of something like $15,000.

The directors of the new enterprise are: B. H. Merck, W. C. Hetrick, J. A. Webb, N. C. White and C. P. Neese. The officers elected by the board of directors are: B. H. Merck, wholesale grocer, president and treasurer; W. F. Hetrick, practical mill man, vice president; J. A. Webb, banker, secretary.

The name of the corporation is the Merck-Hetrick Manufacturing company. An interesting feature of the enterprise is that Hirschman, Mezin & Co., of New York, have agreed to take the entire output of the mill, which guarantees its success from the beginning.

The Service First Idea

WHEN disaster cripples or destroys telephone service anywhere in the Bell system, the reconstructive power of the whole system is concentrated at that point.

Expert workmen and equipment are rushed to the scene and no pains nor expense are spared to restore the service and save the public from loss and inconvenience.

Disasters which prove ruinous to a small company are quickly repaired through the superior organization and the reserve forces which the Bell system has always ready to meet such emergencies.

Striking examples of the efficiency of the great Bell organization have been witnessed during great conflagrations. Bell telephone men are rushed to the scene on the first trains and the work of repair begins before the ashes are cold. This efficient organization is behind every Bell telephone, no matter where it may be located.

Besides Houdini, the Forsyth bill this week embraces a constellation of Keith stars direct from successful engagements along Broadway. Houdini presents the most astounding achievement of mystic science, the East Indian needle illusion, in which he swallows twenty ordinary sewing needles, followed by a lengthy strip of silken cord. When the cord is withdrawn by a member of the committee selected from the audience each of the twenty needles is found to be threaded upon the cord in perfect adjustment. Other Keith favorites on the program are Johnny Dooley and Yvette Rugel in songs and dances; McCormack and Wallace, ventriloquial favorites; John B. Hymer and company in that dramatic novelty, "Jimtown Junction;" Ethel Green, comedienne, and others.

FAISON'S DEAD BODY FOUND IN BATH ROOM

Reports Say the Former North Carolina Congressman Committed Suicide.

Faison, N. C., April 21.—Mystery surrounds the death here today of former Congressman John M. Faison, of the Third North Carolina district, who was found dead in his bath room here early today. Whether Mr. Faison died of heart disease or whether he shot himself, as persistent reports have it, members of the family and friends of the family refuse to say, the only information any of them will give being "Dr. Faison died suddenly."

Persons who went to the Faison home early today referred all inquirers to Marshal Williams. Members of the family, when questioned, said:

"All the information we have for publication is that Mr. Faison died suddenly."

Marshal Williams gave a brief obituary of Mr. Faison, and the same information as the dead man's relatives.

Reports which, according to telephone messages received here, have been circulated throughout the state say that Mr. Faison shot himself. These reports are credited to relatives who received telegrams or telephone messages telling them the former congressman was dead.

Mr. Faison had been in poor health for some time.

The former congressman was born near here April 17, 1862. He was a graduate of Davidson college, North Carolina, and of the medical department of the University of Virginia. Since 1885 he had practiced medicine here. For a number of years Mr. Faison was active in democratic politics, and was elected to the sixty-second and sixty-third congresses, his term expiring March 4 last. He is survived by his widow and six children.

Compels All Impurities To Abandon System

Blood Troubles Can not Remain If Properly Treated.

There is in S. S. S., the famous blood purifier, a property that absolutely compels harmful influences to disintegrate and lose their identity. No matter what they are called nor how destructive they are there is in S. S. S. a powerful, searching counter influence to annihilate the most eruptive germ, cause the mucous linings to convert it into an inert substance that is quickly thrown out of the blood and out of the body by the skin, lungs, kidneys, bowels, and destroyed in the liver. There is not a single advance in medicine today that in any sense is an improvement over S. S. S. Surgery is a wonderful, masterful science, but when it comes to purifying the blood S. S. S. stands alone. Thousands of doctors have prescribed it. Their patients do not always know it is S. S. S., because they leave the treatment to the doctor implicitly. But fair-minded doctors long ago realized that in the vegetable nature of S. S. S. were certain ingredients that to the blood in sickness were just as essential as the flesh-building elements of the grains, meats, fats and sugars of our daily food. The average doctor is humane and of trained intelligence. He has seen the recoveries from worst cases of blood trouble by the use of S. S. S. Get a bottle of S. S. S. today of any druggist. Accept no substitute. And if you wish proper advice on any form of blood trouble, write to the Medical Adviser, The Swift Specific Co., 102 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. It is worth while doing so.

"INSIDE" STORY OF MACHINE RULE

evidence. At the end of the conference it was announced the court had decided not to admit evidence regarding certain things not specified in the pleadings. This barred a great mass of evidence dealing with politics, political methods and Mr. Barnes' alleged conversations with Colonel Roosevelt on the ethics of bossism.

Thomas F. Smith, secretary of Tammany hall for the past twenty years, arrived at the courthouse today in answer to a subpoena served upon him by a representative of Colonel Roosevelt's counsel. This was taken as an indication that his examination would be very thorough.

When the examination of Colonel Roosevelt was resumed, Mr. Bowers questioned the witness, who said:

"I had conversations with Mr. Barnes regarding the gubernatorial election in 1908. These took place in Washington and possibly in Oyster Bay, too."

"What were the conversations?"

Mr. Ivins, for Mr. Barnes, objected, but was overruled.

"The conversations I had were in regard to Mr. Barnes' domination of the party. Now, judge, they were continued conversations. I talked over a letter I wrote in 1909 to Senator Platt. I repeatedly referred to the domination of the party by Senator Platt and Mr. Barnes. I discussed the righteousness of boss rule. I told Mr. Barnes that prior to my becoming governor, Mr. Platt had asked me to come to see him in New York. It was between the time I was elected and the time I assumed office.

Colonel Expressed Surprise.

"I expressed surprise that committees were being appointed when the speaker of the assembly had not been chosen. I also told Mr. Barnes Mr. Platt told me no speaker would be chosen until a man who was satisfactory to the organization was found. Mr. Barnes replied that Mr. Platt was right, even after I said such government was bound to lead to rottenness. I told Mr. Barnes Senator Platt had told me he had decided upon a superintendent of public works who was satisfactory, and that Senator Platt had consultated me upon getting such a good man.

"Mr. Ivins objected because no name was being given for the superintendent of public works. Mr. Bowers said, 'I don't want Mr. Ivins to act this way. He is trying to interrupt the continuity of this testimony.'

"I can't stop this witness' continuity," replied Mr. Ivins.

"Well," Colonel Roosevelt went on, "the man was Francis Hendricks, of Syracuse. I told Mr. Barnes I did not intend any man should say whom I should appoint. Mr. Barnes said in reply that Senator Platt was right, and that the leader of an organization must have complete control of it. It was in 1908 that I told Mr. Barnes my views of matters were the same as they always were. I told Mr. Barnes he had my sympathy, but that Governor Hughes must be independent. Mr. Barnes said the organization had to be dominant and that Governor Hughes had tried to break down the organization and that he would oppose Governor Hughes' renomination."

On the motion of Mr. Ivins, that part of Colonel Roosevelt's testimony referring to Mr. Hughes was stricken from the record.

"In 1908 did you discuss legislation at Albany with Mr. Barnes?"

Hughes and the Machine.

"Yes, Mr. Barnes said Governor Hughes was favoring legislation against the interests of the organization. Mr. Barnes said he and friends had control of the party. He did not say he, himself, was personally in control. He did say that Mr. Hughes could not take the control away from those in whom it was vested."

A letter from Mr. Barnes to Mr. Robsevelt was offered in evidence. It was dated from The Albany Journal office, and said:

"Ever since he has been governor Mr. Hughes has endeavored, through his attitude to arouse resentment in every locality against the men who have been doing the political work of the republican party. Some of these men are the best and most unselfish of men. Some of them are the meanest and most selfish of men. * * * This letter was a gage of battle thrown down which it was my duty to resist, because if I am to remain in the leadership of this county that leadership must be satisfactory to the republican people of the county. I cannot be exploited as a machine-made politician or a patronage broker without resisting the charge to the best of my strength.

"What I am most deeply interested in is this subject of direct nominations, which, if ever adopted by this state, will lead to untold evils in public life, and place therein the cheapest kind of citizens.

"The men with whom I have been cooperating will never relinquish their fight against the principle of direct nominations, but will favor every possible reform to our primary systems.

"The idea of getting rid of 'bosses' is absurd so long as you have party government.

"I sincerely hope and trust that you will not become committed in such a way that it will force an issue at the Saratoga convention on this question. We should have a primary plank of the strongest possible kind to protect voters and give them every opportunity to express themselves in conventions. When nominations were made they should be final. If the people do not like them they can beat them at the polls, but the members of a party should have chance prior to the primaries and conventions to exercise their judgment and express their will."

The Race Track Legislation.

Despite the early ruling of the court, Justice Andrews allowed Colonel Roosevelt to tell of conversations with several state senators about race track legislation.

"I learned," said the witness, "that Senator Grattan had expressed his opposition of the legislation, but that he changed his mind after talking with Mr. Barnes. Mr. Grattan pleaded with Mr. Barnes to allow him to vote as he wanted, but I was told he said Mr. Barnes ordered him to vote oppositely, and he was forced to do so. Senator Grattan's one vote defeated the bill. Senator Grattan represented Mr. Barnes' district.

"I was told that on one occasion, when the question of direct primaries came up in the state senate, the republican leader asked for an adjournment. He asked the republican senators to go into a nearby room. The democratic leader then told the democratic senators to meet in an adjoining room. Senator Davenport said he looked in the room occupied by the republicans, and Mr. Barnes was there in conference with the senators, although he was not a member of the legislature. Later the democrats and republicans came out and went into the senate chamber. Fourteen democrats and fourteen republicans voted for the measure, and it went through. The measure has been opposed by Governor Hughes."

"Were all the republican senators in that room?"

"Oh, no, Mr. Davenport only saw the Barnes republican senators, as he termed them."

"Did you talk to Senator Davenport about Senator Jotham P. Allds?" Allds resigned from the senate after he had been charged with accepting bribes.

"Yes. Mr. Newcomb of Mr. Davenport told me that Senator Allds had been selected for president pro tem. of the senate by the machine republicans. There was opposition against Allds by other republicans, so the machine republicans were unable to control a sufficient vote to elect Allds. Then Senator Newcomb told me the machine democrats co-operated, with the machine republicans in order to elect Allds. And in the position Allds was elected to by Tammany he was the official leader of the republican party in this state.

The Machine Combination.

"Senator Newcomb told me that the combination between the machine democrats and Barnes republicans which resulted in Allds' nomination was held during early stages of the impeachment proceedings against Senator Allds.

"Senator Newcomb informed me later that the combination between machine democrats and republicans continued, and that what the democrats had done was reciprocated by the machine republicans at the time of the Stilwell affair. Stilwell was retained in the senate by the machine men, but he was convicted in the courts and sent to the penitentiary.

"After I had seen the Bayne report I had conversations with a person in Albany about it. I talked to William Loeb about it.

"Mr. Loeb informed me that the combination of crooked business and crooked bosses extended not only to business like printing, but to business of the worst type.

"Mr. Loeb told me at one time he went to Mr. Barnes to ask if the republicans in the legislature would support an anti-machine democratic candidate. Mr. Barnes told Mr. Loeb it was impossible, as he had an ironclad arrangement with Mr. Murphy that Mr. Murphy was to have a free hand to do as he pleased in regard to electing a United States senator.

"Franklin Roosevelt spoke to me about the general situation, including the election of a United States senator. All this was in 1912. He called my attention to the union of independent men of both parties by which they beat the Barnes and Murphy machine in the primary fight."

Puppets in Hands of Barnes.

"Mr. Roosevelt told me that, but I knew it anyhow myself. Why, Mr. Roosevelt also told me that the republican machine legislators were simply puppets in the hands of Boss Barnes, as he called him. Mr. Roosevelt issued a statement about it in 1911."

"When did you last see Mr. Barnes?"

"At the Lincoln day banquet in the Republican club at New York in 1911. I had a conversation with him there. He at that time was chairman of the republican state committee. I told him he was definitely in control of the republican party. I said his position was one of importance. I asked him to act to the republican party as a whole, as his grandfather, Thurlow Weed, had in the old whig party. I had been reading a letter written by Weed to Abraham Lincoln.

"I told Mr. Barnes he was in reality the Lincoln of the republican party, and that he would receive all republican support. I added that the time had passed when the republican party could be ruled as Mr. Platt had ruled it. I said I believed there would be a revolt if any bossism was attempted. Mr. Barnes replied he would do as he deemed best. That ended the conversation."

"Did you ever talk to Governor Sulzer about affairs at Albany?"

"Yes, during the campaign of 1912 for two judges of the court of appeals and assemblymen. Mr. Sulzer told me he had discovered that the government of the state was rotten throughout, and that he had Mr. Hennessy investigating various departments. He said also he was being blocked by Mr. Murphy's machine, which was aided by the Barnes machine. He said he was engaged in a desperate fight with the machines, especially with the Murphy machine.

Sulzer Sees Roosevelt.

Mr. Ivins asked that all reference to Mr. Murphy personally to go out of the record. The court ruled out only the statement about the attack of Mr. Murphy.

"In June, 1914," Colonel Roosevelt went on, "Mr. Sulzer came to see me at Oyster Bay and discussed the rottenness of the state government. He asked me to read certain papers and also to see Mr. Hennessy, and I paid more attention to what Hennessy said than Mr. Sulzer said.

"Mr. Hennessy came down to see me after my return from South America. He told me he had been appointed by Mr. Sulzer to a position, which made it his official duty to investigate the government. He told me he notified Governor Sulzer all believed that he could never have believed such corruption could exist had he not made the investigation himself. He told me of investigating the highways. He said the corruption came in cases where the contracts were not competitive. He said there was frightful corruption in the canals, the state architects and other places. He said Governor Sulzer, who had ever existed, and that sometimes higher ups pocketed the salaries.

"Mr. Hennessy stated on regular deduction was taken out of the pay envelopes of laborers and given to local bosses.

"This condition of affairs, he said, could not be ended until with the next election were smashed. He suggested that we get up a non-partisan citizen movement to put both party machines out of control. Mr. Hennessy was a former newspaper man, a democrat and I regarded him very highly. I believed everything he told me to be true.

"The article I published and which I am being sued for here directly upon the suggestion made by Mr. Hennessy and others."

Colonel Roosevelt was excused and William Lyon was called. He said he was treasurer of the J. B. Lyon company, of Albany.

Mr. Lyon said he had brought the stock books of the company from Albany with him, and that they were locked up in the safe of a local hotel. He said he had been advised by counsel not to produce the books unless directed to do so. He was so instructed, and left the courtroom.

Letter From Barnes to Roosevelt.

Then Colonel Roosevelt went back on the stand.

"Colonel Roosevelt, I show you a letter. Did you ever receive it?" asked Mr. Bowers.

The colonel replied in the affirmative. The letter was from Mr. Barnes to Colonel Roosevelt, and was on the letter head of the "Journal Company of Albany." It was dated December 22, 1899. It read:

"Dear Governor: It is rumored that you contemplate in your message advising the establishment of a state printing house.

"I write you this letter because I presume that your message will be a matter discussed between you and our friends tomorrow. It is not my desire to intrude my personal matters upon you, but I wish merely to state the fact that the establishment of a state printing house here would be a serious, if not a fatal blow to me financially."

Colonel Roosevelt's reply was then read. It said the colonel would like to see Mr. Barnes about the matter, and that the consensus of opinion was that a state printing house should be established.

Colonel Roosevelt said he had later advocated that the legislature make provision for a state printing house.

"When I wrote the offending article," Colonel Roosevelt went on "I had no personal feeling of any malice. I intended to make no personal charge of corruption against Mr. Barnes. I intended to say there was rottenness in the government, which was due to the machines which have worked together on matters that were to their interest and not to the interest of the general public."

That ended Colonel Roosevelt's direct testimony.

Lyon Shows Stock Book.

By that time Lyon had returned with a package of books. He picked out a stock ledger of the J. B. Lyon company.

The witness said the book showed who held stock at the time of the organization of the company. There was a lengthy discussion between counsel over an objection made by Mr. Ivins to further testimony by the witness.

CARE OF THE EYES.

Health as Well as Beauty Demands That Eyes Get Attention.

The woman who takes care of herself should give as much attention to her eyes as she does to her skin or to her hair. In the first place after driving or being in the dust of the city or country she should wash or bathe her eyes with tepid water. This removes the irritating dust or small particles. After reading or before going to bed she should bathe the eyes with salt water or tepid water to which is added a pinch of salt, and using an eye cup, will be surprised at the difference in the sparkle of the eyes. If inflamed they should be bathed several times a day. The dull, sunken eyes, the hollow circles and the sallow complexion of many women is due, however, to the complaints and diseases peculiar to women. The best thing I know for this is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, because it is a temperance tonic, being made of roots and herbs with pure glycerine. It establishes regularity, heals inflammation and banishes pain. Dr. Pierce publishes the ingredients on the wrapper so it is not a secret and I have seen many women cured by it and not only that, but the dull sunken eyes, the sunken cheeks and lust, have taken on a sparkle and healthful appearance. Thousands of women have testified to having been cured of womanly diseases by this Prescription. It speedily causes all womanly troubles to disappear—compels the organs to properly perform their natural functions, corrects displacements, overcomes irregularities, removes pain and misery at certain times and brings back health and strength to nervous, irritable and exhausted women.

It banishes pain, headache, backache, low spirits, hot flashes, dragging-down sensations, worry and sleeplessness surely and without loss of time.

Keep the bowels healthy by using Dr. Pierce's Pellets. They don't gripe.

Many Women Ask and Secure Employment by Bureau's Aid

The activity in the Bureau of the Emergency Association for Unemployed Women yesterday proved the value of that organization and the necessity for its continuance. The placing of the applicants becomes less difficult, now that the women of Atlanta who wish work they have done realize that the Emergency association has a well-organized bureau for that purpose. The bureau has a business-like method of operation, with a follow-up system, that enables the secretary to record the women who fill a place temporarily or permanently. There is an order in the classification of applicants which is helping each day in the matter of solving many of the questions arising in work among industrial operatives.

The bureau in its capacity to handle the question of the unemployed in an emergency, has an experience that will prove a factor in its success in the case of permanent establishment.

Registered yesterday were the following applicants:

No. 25—Experienced seamstress wants plain sewing. Does neat work and is reasonable.

No. 26—Caterer, lady who specializes in mayonnaise, salads and salad dressings, wants orders for grand opera week. Will serve patrons in their homes or otherwise.

No. 27—Experienced hotel housekeeper desires position in hotel or linen room. Good city references.

No. 28—Young woman with thorough knowledge of cigars wants place as cigar clerk or cashier. Good references.

No. 29—Typist with railroad office experience, but no shorthand, wants general office work. References.

No. 30—A middle-aged woman who is a stranger, living in Decatur, wants any kind of sewing. Has splendid references.

PATCHES ON FACE BURNED AND ITCHED

Small, Red and Shiny, White Scales Formed. Very Disfiguring. Could Not Sleep. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Healed.

Carpenter, Miss.—"For years I had been troubled with rough places coming on my face in small patches, then gradually covering it. They would itch and almost make me scream with pain. Then my face would become covered with small white scales or bits of dead skin which would feel very bad. When they began they were small, red and shiny. Then as they enlarged white scales formed and they were very disfiguring. They burned and itched so that I could not keep from scratching and I could not sleep. The skin scaled and peeled off.

"I tried various remedies but was nearly crazy when some months ago I decided to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I bathed my face with warm water and Cuticura Soap, then applied the Cuticura Ointment with my fingers several times a day. The first treatment helped the burning and itching and within a week there was no sign of the trouble. Now my face is as smooth and white as anybody's. I am healed." (Signed) E. Coleman, Oct. 5, 1914.

Gold Rings for Iron Now Being Exchanged By Atlanta Germans

Germans of Atlanta are still exchanging finger rings of gold and silver for those of iron, turning in the more precious metal to be smelted and turned into money for the relief of widows and orphans of Germany and Austria.

The German Historical society of New York has sent to F. E. Radensleben, connected with the German Red Cross relief work in Atlanta, a letter from Captain Thierichens, of the interned German sea raider, Prince Eitel Friedrich, thanking the society for one of these iron rings and certificate given him by the German-Americans of the United States.

The ring and certificate were presented to Captain Thierichens through the New York society.

Druggist Discovers Simple Home Cure For Consumption

A purely vegetable compound that the best physicians of the world have prescribed for consumption for the last century, has been put up in a form to be inhaled and comes in direct contact with the germs and kills them and heals the diseased tissues, and is absolutely guaranteed to cure or money refunded. If you are troubled with Asthma, Catarrh, Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis or any Lung or Throat trouble, you cannot afford to miss this great offer that I am running for thirty days only. A full month's treatment free for you. Just send this ad and 35 cents to cover cost of shipping. My regular price is $1.00, but you must get it at this great offer. I want everyone who suffers to try it at my expense, and if you are dissatisfied at the end of the month's treatment I will gladly refund your money.

You do not have to take the drugs into your system to get the results; you just add twenty drops to one quart of boiling water and inhale the steam and your relief is instant. This offer is limited for one month, so don't delay; order today. Consumptol Laboratory, Dept. C-D, Thomaston, Ga.

PLANS ARE ANNOUNCED FOR MEMORIAL PARADE

Mayor and General Council Accept Invitations to Take Part.

The features incident to the celebration of Memorial day, next Monday, were announced yesterday, following the statement that the mayor and general council had officially accepted invitations to take part in the big parade. Colonel Joseph F. Burke, commander of the Old Guard, and Major Bolling H. Jones will have charge.

The following organizations will participate: The Old Guard in full dress uniform, Wedemeyer's band, the Fifth regiment infantry and band, the Governor's Horse Guard, Atlanta artillery, cadets of the Georgia Military Academy, drum and bugle corps of the Eagles, public school children led by Superintendent William M. Slaton, Confederate Veterans, Atlanta Memorial association and other patriotic organizations.

The parade will form at the junction of Peachtree and West Peachtree streets promptly at 2 o'clock. At Oakland cemetery Colonel George M. Napier, formerly commander of the Old Guard, will deliver an oration at the graves of the confederate veterans, which will be decorated. A salute will be fired by the Atlanta artillery.

Street Car Traffic Halted 17 Minutes By Heavy Blasting

County workmen caused street car traffic to stop all over town early Wednesday morning, although the street car officials stated that no blame should be attached to the workmen.

Blasting out North Boulevard, dirt was thrown on the street car wires, causing all cars in town to stop for seventeen minutes, some cars being as far as 10 miles away from the scene of the accident.

The laborers, in grading the Boulevard beyond Piedmont avenue, have usually been careful not to use charges of powder large enough to disturb the wires, but Wednesday the work was within 30 feet of the wires and an unusually large charge of powder caused two wires to short circuit, cutting off the current at once and affecting every bit of wiring of the Georgia Railway and Power company's street car system.

Emergency workmen were rushed to the scene and in seventeen minutes the trouble was repaired and the cars resumed their schedule. While the accident was caused by the county workmen, officials of the power company stated that no blame could be attached to them nor the street car company, as it was entirely unavoidable.

OLD-TIME LOVE SONGS TO BE SUNG AT ANSLEY

An evening of music, vocal and instrumental, will be given Saturday night at the Hotel Ansley by Mrs. Frank Pearson, assisted by Miss Mabel Acker, reader, and George F. Lindner, violinist.

The feature of the program will be a number of the old-time love songs by Mrs. Pearson, and the readings by Miss Acker will be those popular many years ago.

The admission will be 50 cents. Tickets have been sent out to a number of friends and those who have not already notified Mrs. Pearson whether or not they will be present are requested to do so as early as possible.

Mrs. M. H. L. Nelms, well-known Atlanta musician, will be the accompanist of the evening. The program follows:

Reading, "An Old Sweetheart of Mine," Riley—Miss Mabel Acker.

Song, (a) "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," (b) "Ben Bolt"—Mrs. Frank Pearson.

Violin solos, (a) "Cavatina," Puff; (b) "Cradle Song," Tschesluniein; (c) "Scherzo," Popper—George F. Lindner.

Songs (a) "Alice, Where Art Thou?" (b) "Carry Me Back to Old Virginny," Woodson—Mrs. Frank Pearson.

Readings, (a) "Did Job Have Warts?" (b) "Aunt Chloe," (c) "Soliloquy"—Miss Mabel Acker.

Intermission.

Violin solos, (a) "Angels' Serenade," Braga, (b) "Humoresque," Dvorak—George F. Lindner.

Songs, (a) "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," Butterfield, (b) "Where the River Shannon Flows," Russell—Mrs. Frank Pearson.

Reading, "The Minuet," Dodge—Miss Mabel Acker.

Songs, (a) "The Old Folks at Home," Foster, (b) "How Can I Leave Thee"—Mrs. Frank Pearson.

LETTON RESIGNS HEAD IN TWO ORGANIZATIONS

At a meeting Tuesday of the Atlanta Hotel Men's association and the Georgia Hotel Men's association, J. F. Letton, former lessee of the Winecoff hotel, resigned the presidency of both organizations, preparatory to leaving the state within about thirty days.

William C. Boyer, vice president of the Atlanta organization, was named temporary president. H. C. Larzelere, of Columbus, was named temporary head of the state organization. The presidents of each organization will be elected at the next meeting of each organization.

Mr. Letton stated that he has made no definite plans yet for his future activities.

TWO CEDARTOWN GIRLS ARE SOUGHT BY POLICE

Bertha Roberts, age 14, and Dosie Ayers, 18, of Cedartown, Ga., are being sought in Atlanta by their parents and the police of this city. Chief Beavers was notified that these two girls left school Wednesday, in Cedartown, and boarded a train for Atlanta. In the chief's letter no reason was ascribed for the girls' leaving home.

CHURCHES OF ATHENS UNITE FOR REVIVAL

Athens, Ga., April 21.—(Special.)—For the first time all the evangelical churches of Athens have united for a revival campaign. Dr. R. A. Torrey, the world-known Bible student and revival preacher, has been engaged for three weeks, beginning May 2. A tent seating 5,000 is to be used. The third week there will be a conference of preachers of all denominations from the towns and country for fifty miles around Athens, the visiting ministers to be entertained by Athens citizens.

TWO PERRY FISHERMEN KILL TEN RATTLERS

Perry, Ga., April 21.—(Special.)—John T. Davis and Ruff Curtis started out fishing on Mossy creek recently. Just before reaching the creek they discovered a rattlesnake, which they killed. While fishing and walking along the bank of the creek they found and killed nine other rattlesnakes. All were killed with a fish gig. The snakes ranged from 2½ to 6½ feet in length, and possessed from 5 to 18 rattles each.

Rev. Alex Bealer Called.

Valdosta, Ga., April 21.—(Special.)—The Baptist tabernacle of this city has extended a call to Rev. Alex Bealer, of Eastman. An acknowledgement of the call has not yet been received from Mr. Bealer, but the tabernacle members hope that he will accept it. Rev. R. W. Watkins, who served as pastor for three or four years, resigned recently to enter the field as an evangelist.

JITNEY BUS INJUNCTION ARGUMENT CONCLUDED

Judge Ellis Withholds Decision Until Both Sides File Briefs.

Arguments have been concluded in the case of the jitney bus operators against the city of Atlanta in an effort to restrain the city council from enforcing the ordinance restricting jitney buses, and Judge Ellis has withheld his decision until briefs can be submitted by both sides.

These briefs will be tendered before the week is out, after which time the decision will be given. In the meantime, however, the jitney buses will continue to operate under the old regulations, the temporary injunction continuing until Judge Ellis renders his verdict.

The injunction is also likely to remain for many months, because it is predicted that whichever side loses will appeal the case to the appellate courts. The jitney bus plaintiffs have already prepared the way to fight the case even as high as the supreme court in Washington on the grounds that the ordinance is unconstitutional.

Attorney James L. Mayson, counsel for the city of Atlanta, argued for the defense Wednesday. He countered the argument of the plaintiffs that the jitney bus should be liable to only the same regulations as the taxicab, with the argument that there was the same difference between jitneys and taxis as between the street cab and livery stable hack.

LADIES! SECRET TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Bring back color, gloss and thickness with Grandma's recipe of Sage and Sulphur.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

Eastman Holding Revival.

Eastman, April 21.—(Special.)—Revival services have been in progress at the First Methodist church of this city for the past ten days. Rev. W. E. Towsen, the pastor, is being assisted by Rev. J. F. Dell, of Sparks, who has been preaching to good congregations.

Contentment!

Are You Demanding "Atlanta's Business X-Ray?"

One word is sufficient—"Contentment!"

The feeling of confidence and trust that one word implies!

It is the aim in life—the greatest desire of every Man and every Woman—"Contentment!"

It is the feeling made sure by the protection afforded customers of our Members. As one patron said—

"Since the organization of the Atlanta Retail Merchants Association and its splendid campaign of protection for the customers of its members—when shopping in the stores of its members—I have a feeling of contentment which I never before experienced."

The effort we have put forth is repaid by that one remark!

Is YOUR Merchant using "Atlanta's Business X-Ray?" If not—Ask him why.

HUDSON $1550 F.O.B. Detroit
The Light Six
7-Passenger Phaeton
3-Passenger Roadster
HUDSON $1550 F.O.B. Detroit

There Are Never Enough First-Class Cars in the Spring

They always run out, as you know. Last year, many Hudson enthusiasts had to take second choice. Thousands waited weeks for delivery. This spring, despite trebled output, there will be more delays. Choose your car now, whatever class you are seeking. The leading car has more orders than cars each spring.

Two things are certain: If you buy a class car you will want a Light Six, the latest and coming type. Your first choice will be Hudson.

Hudson—the Ideal

Hudson stands out as the class car in Light Sixes. Its supremacy appears at a glance. It shows in beauty, finish, luxury and refinement. It shows in lightness—2870 pounds. It shows in every part of the chassis.

Hudson is designed by Howard E. Coffin, who created the Light Six type. It marks his latest achievement.

This Hudson model is a four-year result. Two years were spent on it before it appeared. Two years have been spent in refining it.

Hudson is built by the leading builder of class cars. Its prestige gives it permanent value. A year after buying the Hudson will be worth more than any other car in its class.

12,000 Road Tests

But the greatest fact is that Hudson is known to be free from mistakes.

Over 12,000 Light Six Hudsons are running. In twelve thousand hands they have covered at least 30 million miles.

You know this car is staunch. You know that it hides not a weakness or error. Any owner around you will tell you.

Remember, that the Light Six involves a new-type motor. Weight-saving has required changes in every part. New materials were necessary, special steels, much aluminum.

It saves half on tire cost and fuel over old-time Sixes. But, like any new type, it must prove itself faultless.

Hudson has done that. In another year other Light Sixes may have given proof of their staunchness. But today the Hudson is, by all odds, the safest investment in this type.

Prove these facts now, while the car can be promptly delivered.

Miss Ladson Entertains For Miss Eliza Dancy

A beautiful entertainment yesterday was the buffet luncheon given by Miss Leone Ladson at the home of her sister, Mrs. Frank Adair, the occasion assembling fifty young women to meet Miss Eliza Dancy, of Baltimore, who is visiting Miss Katherine Ellis.

The guests were seated for luncheon in the dining room and surrounding apartments, and the entire reception floor was festive with palms and spring flowers.

The stately flag lilies in white and blue filled jardinieres in the hall. Masses of dogwood were used in the living room and on the tea porch, and in the dining room pink snap-dragons and calla lilies were the basis for an artistic decoration in pink and white. The table centerpiece was a silver basket of the flowers, and silver dishes were filled with pink and white candies and cakes.

Miss Ladson wore a smart costume in black and white. Mrs. Adair wore black satin charmeuse. Miss Dancy wore a pongee suit with a becoming hat in shades of tan. Miss Ellis wore tan-colored taffeta, embroidered, and a black hat.

CLAIM WASHINGTON WAS DOMINATED BY MRS. ELLEN BELLAMY

Macon, Ga., April 21.—(Special.)—The indications now are that the trial of the Washington will case, involving the $125,000 estate of the late Hugh V. Washington, will consume the remainder of the present week, three days having already been devoted to it.

Attorneys representing those who are endeavoring to have the will set aside put in the day getting evidence before the jury to show that Mr. Washington was dominated by his sister, Mrs. Ellen W. Bellamy, to whom he left the entire estate for the balance of her life and at her death to go to various charities, including the Missouri Historical society, which is to receive about $50,000.

Robert Washington, of Monroe county, a nephew of the testator, who is one of the three contestants, was on the stand most of the day. He testified that Mrs. Bellamy induced her mother to make a will leaving all her property to H. V. Washington, despite the fact that at the death of J. H. R. Washington, he had requested his wife to make an equitable division of the estate. He also testified that it was Mrs. Bellamy who induced her brother to leave his money to the historical society, instead of to his nephews and niece.

MATHEWS ELECTED ATHLETIC EDITOR OF COLLEGE PAPER

Beside being one of the best tennis players at the University of Virginia, where he is now attending school, William C. Mathews, an Atlanta boy, has shown such literary ability that he has been elected athletic editor of "College Topics," the student publication of the university.

Mathews, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Mathews, No. 12 East Merritts avenue, is a 1913 graduate of the Boys' High school and was engaged in newspaper work while attending school here.

G. N. I. SENIORS TO SING THE MESSIAH AT MACON

Milledgeville, Ga., April 21.—(Special.)—The student body, 600 voices in all, of the Georgia Normal and Industrial college will sing Handel's "Messiah" in the Grand opera house here on Saturday evening. The solo parts will be sung by Reed Miller and Madame Van de Veer, of New York, and Mrs. Grace Lee Brown Townsend and Etheridge Harrower, of Atlanta. The senior class of the college, led by this quartet of well-known singers, will sing the "Messiah" in the auditorium at Macon on Sunday night, the churches of Macon having lent their indorsement to the movement.

The seniors are substituting Macon this year for their annual trip to Atlanta, where they gave a special musical program last year at the Trinity Methodist church.

A Snappy Side Dish.

ACTRESS TELLS SECRET

A Well-Known Actress Tells How She Darkened Her Gray Hair and Promoted Its Growth With a Simple Home-Made Mixture.

Miss Blanche Rose, a well-known actress, who darkened her gray hair with a simple preparation which she mixed at home, in a recent interview at Chicago, Ill., made the following statement: "Any lady or gentleman can darken their gray hair and make it soft and glossy with this simple recipe, which they can mix at home. To a half pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and ¼ oz. of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until it becomes the required shade. This will make a gray haired person look 20 years younger. It is also fine to promote the growth of hair, relieves itching and scalp humors and is excellent for dandruff and falling hair."

DR. W. S. GOLDSMITH BOOMED FOR HEAD OF STATE DOCTORS

Macon, Ga., April 21.—(Special.)—The sixty-sixth annual convention of the Georgia Medical society in Macon this morning was marked by the largest opening-day attendance in the history of the society, between three and four hundred physicians being present.

Dr. K. P. Moore, the oldest member of the Bibb County Medical association and one of the oldest in the entire state, delivered the address of welcome and his reminiscences were exceedingly interesting to the visitors. He said that the first meeting of the society was held in Macon sixty-six years ago. One of those present at that meeting was Dr. Crawford W. Long, one of the greatest men Georgia ever produced and the inventor of ether-anaesthesia, revolutionizing the medical world in his day.

Three sessions were held today, morning, afternoon and night, presided over by the president, Dr. W. B. Hardman, of Commerce. Papers covering many new developments in the medical world were read at the afternoon and night sessions. The physicians, however, are not letting their business interfere with their pleasure, for they were much in evidence at the baseball game between Macon and Albany this afternoon, joining with the bankers of group 3, who also met here today, in rooting for their favorite teams.

The election of officers will not be held until Friday. A boom was begun today for Dr. W. S. Goldsmith, of Atlanta, for the presidency. It is probable that if Dr. Goldsmith's name is brought before the convention he will be elected, as he has many admirers among those present.

PARENTS FEAR SON HAS MET FOUL PLAY ON TRIP IN MOTOR

Buchanan, Ga., April 21.—(Special.)—Fear that Winfred Williams, a young Felton man, 18 years of age, has met with foul play at some dark and lonely spot in the hills of northern Alabama has caused the young man's parents several hours of painful anxiety.

Williams, besides being employed by the Central railroad at Felton as agent, also at times uses his automobile for the transfer of passengers. Monday night at about 8 o'clock he was called over the telephone by a man named Weldon, at Cedartown, with the request that Williams come up and carry him to Carrollton. Weldon, however, decided to go to Rome instead, and Williams called his parents over the phone and notified them of the change. Weldon, who gave his home as Jamestown, Ala., claimed to be a detective, and Williams had carried him two trips before.

Nothing further was heard from Williams until his father received a message, supposedly from him, dated at Gadsden, Ala., Tuesday at noon, saying he would be home as soon as he could make the trip. As it is only a four-hour run from Gadsden, when the young man failed to arrive by this morning the parents were slightly worried, but after thirty-six hours with nothing further heard from him, the young man's father has wired chiefs of police of several towns and cities in northern Alabama and Georgia, asking that a search be made.

The young man drove a 1914 model Ford touring car, carrying a Georgia license No. 9648.

SOCIETY

The Love of Three Kings.

This afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Piedmont hotel there will be sung for the first time in this city much of the difficult music of L'Amore dei Tre Re, which has been defined by The New York Times one of the strongest and most original operatic productions that have come out of Italy since Verdi laid down his pen. Critics everywhere speak of Montemezzi's work with equal enthusiasm. The program this afternoon is in charge of Mr. David Jenkins, who has found the deepest satisfaction in the study and presentation of the work. Mrs. Peyton Todd and Mr. James Wardwell have graciously undertaken the preparation of this dramatic and powerful work, and will be heard to great advantage in the solos and duets of Fiora and Avito. Translations from the libretto will be read by Mrs. Jarnagin. Mr. Jenkins, at the piano, will illustrate a short talk on the structure of the score and its tonal adequacy to the libretto.

A large audience will undoubtedly greet these musicians today and applaud their meritorious work in thus acquainting Atlanta with one of the new works to be produced by the Metropolitan forces.

Admission will be 25c, but tickets at 50c, to be secured at the door, will be good for this concert and for "The Magic Flute," to be held on Saturday at the same hour. This is the sixth afternoon of opera readings held in the interest of the fund for District Visiting Nursing among the poor which have received such widespread approval.

Endeavor Society.

A bright entertainment under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor society at the East Point Christian church, this evening will present the following program:

PART I.

"To the Evening Star," East Point home school; "Heroes," Miss Bernice Wing; "The Midshipmite," boys of school; "The Land of Nod," Miss Wilma Cunningham; "Sweet and Low," East Point home school; "The Organist," Miss Thelma Allison; "The Lost Chord," East Point home school.

PART II.

"Moonlight on the Lake," Miss Julia Goodall, Miss Edna Heade, Mr. H. J. Martin, Mr. Wright T. Moore, accompanied by Mrs. H. J. Martin; "Marshes of Glynn," Miss Sadie Chambers; "The Carnival of Spring," Miss Julia Goodall; "Salve" (Columbus on Santa Maria), Mr. Wright T. Moore; "Love Me, My Idol," Misses Goodall and Heade, Mrs. H. J. Martin, accompanist; pantomime, "Abide With Me," Misses Iva Henry, Thelma Allison, Carrie Henry, Inez Wilson, Florence Henry, Susie Wilson.

Miss Hay Entertains.

Miss Minnie Lee Hay gave an enjoyable card party yesterday at her home on West Peachtree street, entertaining the following guests:

Misses Martha Rogers, Florence Bridgham, Mildred Bridgham, Genevieve Hill, Mrs. R. K. Batterton, Miss Annie Bates, Misses Bertha Wright, Rachel Beck, Louisa Hamilton, Lillian Daily, Mrs. Ralph Wynne, Mrs. Evans Erwin, Mrs. J. F. Heard, Misses Harry Schlesinger, Priscilla Rose and Martha Lawshe.

Snowballs and ferns were used in decoration, and their colors, white and green, were repeated in other dainty details.

Miss Hay wore a becoming gown of dark blue crepe.

Daughters of Confederacy.

The Atlanta chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, will hold an interesting meeting this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Woman's club on Baker street. An elaborate program has been arranged, and a large attendance is urged. The executive board is asked to meet promptly at 2:30 o'clock.

Audience Is Pleased By Three Playlets Offered Last Night

Three playlets, "The Superior Sex," "Rooms to Let" and "Jimmy," produced last evening at the Parish house, 16 Washington street, by the Players' club of St. Philip's cathedral, were highly enjoyed by a large audience. The performance will be repeated this evening at 8 o'clock.

The Players' club was recently organized among the young people of the cathedral, and is under the direction of Miss Mary Branan, director of the Thursday Morning Study class of the Drama league. Its purpose is to develop a serious interest in real artists and worth-while plays.

Children Made Happy By Thoughtful Gift Of Two-Year-Old Girl

Nearly two score little tots at the Atlanta Child's home Wednesday were made glad on receiving from a little 2-year-old girl a big basket of gifts and good things to eat. The little girl did not give her name, but sent a note saying she was celebrating her second birthday and wanted the children at the home to enjoy it with her.

The gifts, nuts, candies, cakes and fruits were distributed among the children in their new home, and they enjoyed them to the fullest, wishing many happy returns for the kind little friend and donor.

"Mother" Sutherland, who is in charge of the home, states there is not a sick baby in the institution, and that they have had unusual good health since moving into their handsome new quarters three weeks ago.

COL. GUNN TO SPEAK AT CRAWFORDVILLE

Crawfordville, Ga., April 21.—(Special.)—The Alex Stephens chapter, U. D. C., have planned an interesting program for the memorial exercises to be held here April 25. The exercises will be held in Stephens High school auditorium. Prof. R. D. McDowell will be master of ceremonies, and Hon. W. C. Chapman will present to the audience the speaker of the day, Colonel R. R. Gunn, a young attorney of Crawfordville. Appropriate songs will be sung by the school children, who, after the exercises, will decorate the graves of Alexander H. Stephens and his brother, Judge Linton Stephens, whose remains now rest side by side in Liberty hall campus here.

MARQUARDT IS IN RACE FOR FEDERATION HEAD

President Marks Urges Closer Relationship Between Labor and Farmers' Unions.

Columbus, Ga., April 21.—(Special.) The Georgia Federation of Labor met here today in its seventeenth annual convention, and will be in session three days. One hundred and fifty delegates are present. Addresses of welcome were delivered by President George E. White, of the Columbus Federation of Labor; Mayor John C. Cook and Secretary Leland J. Henderson, of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce. President S. B. Marks responded in pleasant vein to these addresses.

President Marks, in his annual report, told of the efforts of the Georgia Federation of Labor to secure employment for idle workmen in recent months, detailing his experiences in trying to get farmers in need of help in touch with mechanics and others who had formerly been farmers. He advocated a closer relationship with the Farmers' union. He said that officers of the federation "have endeavored to form a co-operative working agreement with the Farmers' union, but nothing of a definite nature had materialized. Co-operation between the farmers and trade unions would enable both organizations to secure remedial legislation much easier."

This afternoon delegates to the convention were guests in an automobile ride over the city and suburbs. A busy program has been prepared for tomorrow. The sessions are open to the general public.

President Marks will not offer for re-election, and there is an interesting race for president. Friends of both G. C. O'Pry, of Macon, and L. P. Marquardt, of Atlanta, have proposed their names, and are actively working in their behalf. The election of officers will take place Friday. Both Atlanta and Augusta are after next year's convention of the federation, and a lively fight is on.

PRESIDENT O. R. HORTON NOW FIRST LIEUTENANT

Milledgeville, Ga., April 21.—(Special.)—President O. R. Horton, of the Georgia Military college, has recently stood an examination and has been commissioned as first lieutenant in the Second regiment of the National Guard of Georgia. The friends of Colonel Horton are congratulating him upon receiving his commission.

LEGISLATION PLANNED BY GROUP FIVE BANKERS

Macon, Ga., April 21.—(Special.)—The members of group five, of the Georgia Bankers' association, held their annual meeting here today, more than 100 being in attendance, while a party of northern and eastern bankers who are touring the country in a private car were among the guests.

Authority to draw up bills relating to usury, a bankers' bureau and a revised banking bill, to be presented to the legislature for consideration, was vested in the legislative committee, while addresses were delivered by M. H. Wellborn, chairman of the board of directors of the federal reserve bank in Atlanta, and by James E. Downing, of the United States department of agriculture, who discussed the work of the boys' pig club in Georgia.

Though Macon is the regular meeting place of the association, the right to the convention next year was waived in favor of Fort Valley. At a luncheon following the meeting the following officers were named for the ensuing year: Chairman, J. H. Arnall, Tennille; vice chairman, R. T. Persons, Forsyth; secretary, R. C. Dunlap, Macon; orator, J. H. Finn, Dublin.

The Treatment of Influenza or La Grippe

It is quite refreshing these days to read of a clearly defined treatment for Influenza or La Grippe. In an article in the "Lancet-Clinic," Dr. James Bell, of New York City, says he is convinced that too much medication is both unnecessary and injurious.

When called to a case of la grippe, the patient is usually seen when the fever is present, as the chill which occasionally ushers in the disease, has generally passed away. Dr. Bell then orders that the bowels be opened freely with salts, "Actoids" or citrate of magnesia. For the high fever, severe headache, pain and general soreness, one Anti-kamnia Tablet every three hours is quickly followed by complete relief. Ask for A-K Tablets. They are also unexcelled for headache, neuralgia and all pains.

Your Grandmother's Remedy for Purifying the Blood
And Renovating the System in the Springtime
Ask for Sulpherb Tablets.

What was grandmother's unexcelled remedy? Haven't you heard of it? Yes, you have! It was sulphur, cream of tartar and molasses. The main trouble with it was its nauseous taste.

A modern method puts the cream of tartar and sulphur into sugar-coated tablets and mixes them with herbs, roots, etc., making a wonderful tonic blood purifier and system cleanser.

Just try Sulpherb Tablets (not sulphur tablets), but Sulpherb—remember the name—and get the tablets in sealed tubes at 50c per tube.

Grown-up people and children who don't feel well, who are constipated or sluggish, or who have pimples, boils, carbuncles, ulcers and the like, can soon rid the system of these impurities by taking this good old-fashioned remedy in modern form. Their action satisfies or money is refunded by the Prescription Products Company, Dayton, Ohio. A free trial sent to any address. Buy of any well-stocked druggist.

THE TEST OF NEUTRALITY.

In his timely and carefully prepared address before the directors and officers of the Associated Press in New York on Tuesday President Woodrow Wilson gave perhaps the most accurate definition of real neutrality that has yet appeared. "The test of friendship," the president said, "is not sympathy with one side or the other, but getting ready to help both sides when the struggle is over."

President Wilson has submitted the best test of true friendship for Europe that has yet been given. It must be remembered that, regardless of individual opinion, or the sum of it in any particular direction, as a nation we are not sitting in judgment and have no right to. We must wait, wait patiently, without attempting to judge or construe motives, clearing our vision and preparing ourselves the meanwhile to assist, when the time comes, in the great work of restoration. That this must fall to our lot as the "only great nation at present disengaged," President Wilson clearly showed. The probability is the United States will be the chief mediator; and in any event we must be the chief factor in financial, industrial and commercial rehabilitation.

There is echo in President Wilson's words of the gospel of "peace on earth," when he says:

> There is something so much greater to do than fight. Let us think of America before we think of Europe, in order that America may be fit to ze Europe's friend when the day of tested friendship comes. The test of friendship is not sympathy with one side or the other, but getting ready to help both sides when the struggle is over.

How different from the attitude of those, some of whom are in the president's intimate councils, who would involve us in war with one or the other of the European factions, for none but sentimental reasons, or because the European viewpoint as to the manner of conducting their quarrel may differ from ours. In the light of the president's statement, the American attitude, as expressed in official action which has sometimes seemed open to criticism, at least as measured by the individual yardstick, becomes clearer and more forceful in its command of general approval. At no point have we sacrificed our national dignity, even in slightest degree; nor have we anywhere, to unbiased judgment, laid ourselves liable to the charge of unfairness.

There is no doubt that President Wilson's timely utterances will strike a popular chord. Already there is marked evidence of a tendency on the part of the individual citizen of the United States, where uncontrolled by nationality, descent or other primary cause, to weigh, to consider and to preserve an unbiased judgment regarding the motives of the European controversy. The president's words have crystallized this growing national sentiment. It is as if he pictured the American feeling and viewpoint when the struggle shall have closed—not an official attitude alone, but one expressive of the broad national view, the great sum of individual opinion when the trial balance shall have been taken.

The best, the most satisfactory conclusion we can draw from President Wilson's presentation is that those who have laid wagers on our becoming embroiled in the European controversy will lose, while disappointed jingoes will be forced to turn elsewhere for the consolation they cannot hope to get from demonstrated national sanity.

THE VITAL STATISTICS LAW.

It is more or less a matter of habit with the Georgia legislature to enact administrative laws, without providing the ways and means for their enforcement. That is what the last legislature did with the new vital statistics law, passing up to its successor the responsibility of providing the needed funds.

This is one instance, however, in which it was found impossible to put the law into operation without the money. It can hardly be said that economy dictated the legislative neglect; it was, rather, an opportunity to "get away with" a recognized duty by merely enacting the law, and saving the money for other appropriations of which that legislature—and it was no exception—would have made more than its share, if it had not been well held down.

Several years ago, when the legislature created the department of commerce and labor, it made no appropriation for meeting the department's expenses in the first six months of its authorized existence. The people elected a commissioner and he went ahead with the organization and conduct of the department, taking upon himself the responsibility until a subsequent legislature made good the omission.

The vital statistics law is a somewhat different proposition. There is a heavier expense involved, and there is no one in position to bear the burden of responsibility for this expense, pending legislative action this summer. Consequently, although the law was to have gone into effect January 1, last, its beneficent operations were necessarily delayed until the legislature can meet this summer and apply the remedy in the shape of the needed appropriation.

Forceful attention was called to this failure on the part of the legislature at the annual meeting of the state, county and municipal health officers held in Macon this week, when that organization appointed a committee to go before the new legislature this summer and urge it to lose no time in correcting the mistake of its predecessor.

The value of a general vital statistics law is no longer an issue. The legislature which passed it gave it almost a unanimous vote. It probably thought the law would go into effect without question, as others have done, depending upon the next legislature to make good the deficit. But in this case the plan didn't work, and Georgia will not, as a matter of fact, have a vital statistics law until the money is forthcoming.

The coming legislature should make this appropriation without delay and let it be immediately available. Until this is done one of the most valuable laws enacted in recent years must remain a dead letter.

THE CAUSE OF THE WAR.

It is doubtful if any kind of a prize offer would bring forth a generally satisfactory answer as to the cause of the European war. There are those who know just exactly what it is, know beyond the question of a doubt, but they are having considerable difficulty in securing adoption of their views by a majority.

It would be a hard task to get together a considerable number of persons who might entertain precisely the same view as to the reasons why the war is being fought; unless, perchance, the aforesaid aggregation were composed altogether and in toto of Germans, or English, or French or some other of the nations engaged and their sympathizers.

Thus we are left a wide range of choice in war causes and it becomes, after all, a matter of individual selection. Here are a few of the unquestioned causes of the European war, depending, of course, upon viewpoint:

German militarism.
England's jealousy of German commerce.
Germany's jealousy of English trade.
Desire of England to maintain her supremacy on the seas.
Russia's desire for territorial aggrandizement.
French desire for revenge for 1870.
Germany's determination to establish an open sea.

To these might be added a number of other alleged causes more technical in nature and more deeply involved, but here is a list from which the average man may readily make his selection and find plenty of facts and argument to back it.

The partisan of either side will find no difficulty in making selection; to the unprejudiced man it may be a somewhat harder task, but it matters not where he picks, a little reading from the supporters of his chosen theory will fill him full of convincing argument.

There is an interesting wealth of material here just now for the high school and the college debater; but even these will scarcely prove convincing to the mind made up somewhere else.

To get at the real cause of the war it looks as if we will have to wait for history. Possibly the next generation will have the pleasure of being accurately and reliably informed as to just what brought it on.

Song of Little Troubles.

I.

Hey, my Little Troubles!
Are you all at home tonight?
I'm from the blossoms—the beauty of the light;
In a shadow-corner still you love to throng;
I'm bringing you a sunbeam—an unforgotten song.

II.

I feared that you would follow where I found a garden bright,
But you cling to shadow-corners—you are all at home tonight!
But you shall not stay the dark hours, I've brought the light along;
I'll wreathe your brows with sunbeams and touch your lips with song.

III.

And the Little Troubles answer, in the beauty of the beam:
"We have always dwelt in shadows—we have never known a dream!"
Then, knowing that the darkness was the shadow of the day,
They heard the Morning singing and dreamed the dark away.

"British Humor."

Mr. S. Harper, second officer of the torpedoed British ship, Harpalion, tells this story of the tragedy to The London Times:

"'We had just sat down to tea,' said Mr. Harper, 'at the engineers' table, and the chief engineer was saying grace. He had just uttered the words, "For what we are about to receive may the Lord make us truly thankful," when there came an awful crash. The torpedo had struck us.'"

The Old Battlefields.

I.

The old-time battlefields were best where now the toilers reap
And the plumed heroes of the past in dust of glory sleep;
With blare of bands that cheered them on and banners waving bright,
The glory of the victory—the dashing, flashing fight!

II.

How well they shine on canvas in proud, impetuous sweep!
The story of their glory is in the world's high keep;
But modern heroes, hidden in earth-pits, never know
The wild joy of the regiments that battled long ago!

By Proxy.

I wish that Brother Mockingbird
Who sings his songs so well
Would tell a feller's sweetheart
What he never dares to tell.

And, having told it truly,
From his song-perch in the tree,
Would bring one word in answer
From my sweetheart's lips to me.

The Holland Letter

Eben Briggs Thomas, president of the Lehigh Valley Railroad company, and Howard Elliott, president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, have recently, and within the same week, spoken words of encouragement which business men throughout the United States will not fail to heed. Yet they spoke from different points of view, so far as their own companies are concerned. President Thomas had been able to contemplate with serenity the figures which show that his was one of the few railroad companies of the United States which has been able to withstand, so far as market quotations for stock were concerned, general depression. There have been only two or three other railroad companies in the United States and one in Canada the quotations for whose stock have been in excess of those recorded for the stock of the Lehigh Valley.

President Elliott, on the other hand, was during the first year of his control of the New Haven compelled to see recorded quotations which showed daily impairment of the credit of his corporation. A few years ago its stock was spoken of as gilt-edged and with little of it in the market. It has been within a year below forty. Both of these railway presidents are men of wide experience. President Thomas gained some portion of his rich experience through his association with the Richmond and Danville and the Georgia Pacific, so that in that way he obtained accurate knowledge of commercial and agricultural conditions in the south. He was also fortified through his experience as manager of one of the great railway systems of the midwest. President Elliott knew the west, and particularly that part of it which is beyond the Mississippi river, as well as any railroad manager ever did, and through his service as president of the Northern Pacific he became familiar with and was personally identified with the remarkable growth of the northwest. These two railway presidents resemble each other in certain personal and intellectual qualities. Both are courageously conservative; both are men of modest life; both have a faculty for going to the roots of things and of seeming not to work hard, since they make no fuss about their work, even though intensely occupied; both are men who speak with caution, always endeavoring to justify opinions which they give by hard facts. President Thomas has recently caused to be published a communication written to President Wilson in which he intimates his belief that the business life of the nation has passed the period of depression. That is a view which was taken early in March by one of the ablest constructive bankers of the United States—a banker who has been in personal touch with leading men of finance in Europe, particularly London. He stated that the bottom of our depression was reached late in October of last year. While President Thomas gives no dates, he does feel justified in saying that business men of the United States have now every reason for looking into the future with confidence, and he speaks especially of the service which the new federal reserve system has been able to give in the way of inspiring confidence. Going from generalities to details, he reports that his railway company is about to expend a large amount of money for equipment and for other purposes and contemplates a still larger expenditure justifying this action by the improvement in business conditions.

President Elliott's Statement.

Good business judges speak of the statement made a few days ago by President Elliott as to even greater significance in view of all the circumstances than the encouraging words written by President Thomas. Notwithstanding all that the New Haven railroad system has suffered, its peril by land and by sea—for its navigation service has been attacked—nevertheless President Elliott feels justified in saying that the corporation is solvent, and that he can look into the future with revived hope, and that gradually, but surely, the corporation will reflect the general improvement of business conditions through the United States. That is spoken of here as a most encouraging statement. The New England industrial and commercial situation differs from that characteristic of any other part of the country. It is peculiar, almost sui generis. It is the most compact and concentrated industrial section of the United States, especially the lower three states of New England. The relation of the New Haven system to its industrial life is quite as intimate as was the relation of the Northern Pacific, when Howard Elliott was president, to agricultural life of the northwest. New England logically should be about the last section of the country to respond to business improvement. That it is to respond is President Elliott's opinion, and those who have watched closely his manner of meeting extraordinary difficulties and of overcoming them, and who have had knowledge of the good faith with which he cordially accepted the recommendations of the department of justice so that the statutory evils which the department found in the New Haven system could be eradicated, are of the opinion that to Mr. Elliott himself is due in no small measure the beginning of the change in the New England business situation.

One Great Test.

A few days ago Mr. Elliott approached men of finance with intent to discover whether he would be able to market some $24,000,000 of one-year New Haven notes. His statement that the road was solvent and the figures which he gave to prove that improvement has begun, as well as confidence in him, made it possible for him to market the notes. Undoubtedly the issue was underwritten, but the report in financial circles is that this entire issue was within a few hours absorbed by investors.

One feature of this transaction seems to have escaped notice. Included in the securities pledged by the New Haven company to secure these notes were stocks of three railroad companies. One is the Norwich and Worcester, one the Boston and Providence, one the Old Colony Railroad company. In this way there was revived a recollection of three railroads, of late years forgotten, which were among the first to be built in the United States. The Norwich and Worcester was constructed to supplement steamboat travel between New York and the point on the Thames river exactly opposite the boundary line selected for the Harvard and Yale boat races. This corporation was organized only four or five years after George Stephenson demonstrated the commercial practicability of the locomotive engine. The Boston and Providence was one of the first railroads to be constructed, and the civil engineers of that time so built it that a tangent upon it some twelve miles long was selected as the base line for the United States coast surveyors' triangulation. The Old Colony railroad was constructed in the thirties of the past century for the purpose of giving Boston communication with southeastern Massachusetts. All of these roads were always prosperous and the Boston and Providence gained national reputation as the first to pay regular and large dividends. With the expansion of the New Haven railroad system, these corporations were absorbed, but they retained their legal identity so that the stocks today are available for security. Yet but for this transaction the silence which has been maintained regarding them since they went into the New Haven railroad treasury would be continued.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS AND PATRIOTISM TEXT FOR MARY ANTIN'S LECTURE

"The public schools as a test of American patriotism—A sermon to parents, teachers and mere taxpayers," is the theme upon which Mary Antin will lecture in Atlanta the evening of May 6.

Seats for the lecture are on sale, and reserved seats may be secured at the box office of the Atlanta theater, where the lecture will be.

The fame of Mary Antin—student, scholar, writer and lecturer—has become international, and her writings are being translated into foreign languages. Her first book was "The Promised Land," and the thought, beauty and spirit of it have brought forth criticism from many countries where the book is now sold. She has shared honors at public gatherings where world topics are discussed with Theodore Roosevelt, Nicholas Murray Butler, ex-President Eliot of Harvard, and men of kindred attainments, and her writings and lectures are being sought for in every section.

"Who is Mary Antin?" asked a woman at a recent meeting where the announcement of her coming was made. It is just that person who should go and hear Mary Antin speak. It would be hard to tell just who she is. You don't think about anything but how great she is after you have read her book and heard her speak. Therefore, you are subdued into a sort of mysterious silence when asked just who she is!

In her book she shows a picture of herself, when, as a tiny little emigrant, she came over to this country from Russia, where as a poor little Jewess she was persecuted. She was in this country just sixteen years, when she wrote one of the most read, most thoughtful and most charming books of the moment.

She is rational in everything she writes, but in the matter of the greatness of the United States as a nation the value of the freedom and democracy of our government and our institutions, though still rational, she is intensely emotional and provokes a faith and emotion in her readers that makes every man and woman of them better Americans, better citizens, and real patriots.

She is a "little bit of a thing," with keen, dark eyes, dark, crimpy hair, which she wears parted in the middle and combed smoothly back, and she has a voice that reaches in its softness and subtlety and earnestness right down into the thinking, better parts of her hearers. She has a husband, who is very proud of her—a distinguished member of the staff of some one of the big universities—but people are so perfectly satisfied with just Mary Antin they forget to pry into her husband's name, and where she lives, and all the little things that mean so much to mediocrity, and are so little when measured with the genius of "just Mary Antin."

Her theme for lecture here, "The Public School as a Test of American Patriotism"—what a timely subject for Atlanta!

Ponderous Personages—Dante.

By GEORGE FITCH,
Author of "At Good Old Siwash."

Dante's full name was Dante Alighieri. He was born in Florence, A. D., 1265, of a family which has become steadily better with the efforts of each successive biographer.

Dante made up his mind early in life to became a poet and it is worth noting that he followed the same course of preparation as that of Goethe. He learned astronomy, mathematics, geography, history, all available languages, what sciences had been opened for business up to date and he then browsed around in the unconnected avenues of knowledge which still remained.

This will be interesting information to a great many modern day poets who learn to use a few new and unsuspected words and then rest from their preparatory labors for all time.

Poetry was a serious business in Dante's day and required as much information as a college curriculum. Men still read Dante's great poem, "The Divina Comedia," in 100 cantos and 76s sleeps, not because of its music and inspiration, but because it presents a pretty nearly complete compendium of the knowledge existing in Italy at the time. Dante put it all in.

When Dante was a young man he went into politics, and got mixed up with the Guelphs and Ghibellines who fought each other for 100 years with everything from strychnine to chimney pots. He sat in the city council and afterwards became prior, who was a sort of exaggerated police magistrate. Dante had a stormy term and shortly afterwards the opposition got a new supply of powder and was elected by an immense mortality.

At this time Dante retired from Florence. He loved his native city, but it was not considered tasteful for a defeated politician to remain at home. So promptly and cheerfully did he retire that by the time the council had sentenced him to be burned alive he was 100 miles away and still going strong.

Dante never returned to Florence because of his aversion to a warm climate. He wandered from city to city in Italy, writing poetry and composing his masterpiece. In this great book he visits hell, purgatory and heaven, guided by Virgil, and into hell he put all his political opponents, devising an ingenious and special punishment for each. Dante's revenge is not over 600 years old and is still effective.

"Into hell he put all his political opponents."

Dante died in 1321. He was a lean, dark visaged man with a sharp, sad countenance, and a permanent case of home-sickness. His sentence of death was reversed in Florence in 1495, but this was 174 years too late to interest him.

RIPPLING RHYMES

By WALT MASON.

APRIL DAYS.

It's April, the sunny, so hand me my lyre! The month for my money, the month I admire. The breezes are tender that sigh o'er the lea, and folks of each gender are dancing with glee. No blizzards are blowing their way through the streets, but garden sass, growing gives promise to eats. The milkman is milking the solemn-eyed cows; book agents are milking the easy-mark fraus; the farmers are riding on spring-seated tools, and singing and hiding the dingbusted mules. The roosters are going on jubilant legs, you'd think, from their crowing, they laid all the eggs. The whole world rejoices that April is here, and all of the voices that come to the ear, with rapture are thrilling, with peace and content; so why are you spilling, those tears, gloomy gent? The winter is ended, and spring is on deck, and everything's splendid and bully, by heck! So shame on the critter who digs up a whine, whose bosom is bitter, whose eyes soak in brine! There's joy in the breezes, there's zip in the air, forget your diseases, your grief and your care!

Pays Striking Tribute To Work of Sam Dibble

Editor Constitution: Soon after I came to Georgia, seven years ago, I learned to recognize and appreciate the ease and elegance of the literary style in the editorials of Samuel Wagner Dibble.

Suffer me to express the opinion that American journalism has suffered a distinct loss in the death of Mr. Dibble. In his literary style there were the clearness of a well-ordered mind, the force of a master-hand, and the beauty of a world-loving heart.

BILLY SUNDAY DRESSED LIKE MODEL.

(From The New York Times.)

After he had doffed the $1,000 overcoat which John Wanamaker had given him, Sunday appeared in a dress that was impeccable from the most authentic sartorial standard. Nothing more correct was seen on Fifth avenue today. He might have carried an expert tailor and haberdasher in the large traveling staff which he introduced to the audience.

He wore a dark gray morning coat and perfectly cut trousers of black, with a white pin stripe, buttoned pattent-leather shoes with dull leather uppers, and ping collar and dark four-in-hand tie, with a small diamond scarfpin. From a buttonhole of his vest a broad gold chain of tiny links descended to his watch pocket.

In the evening Sunday had made a complete switch to a dark double-breasted suit with a faint vertical stripe, patent leather pumps which would not have been out of place in a tango palace, and a small dark-blue bow tie. At both services he was the best-dressed man in the tabernacle. He left the platform perspiring slightly, but unruffled in exterior in spite of the violent exercise he took during the sermons.

A NORTH CAROLINA POPLAR.

(From The Lincoln County News.)

Mr. Burt Barlow has slaughtered the largest tree in Lincoln county, a large poplar, which came from the farm of Mrs. Sallie Wise. This large poplar has shaded many who have gone before. It was located near the Pleasant Home schoolhouse spring. Many are familiar with the sorroundings and the spot where the huge tree stood. Wagons have been hauling the cuts from this tree to town for shipment for several days. The tree was 7 feet 9 inches in diameter widest part, and 6 feet 4 inches at the narrowest. 21 cuts 31 inches long have been hauled in. The total of lumber will be about 5,500 feet. Much might be written about this great tree. To give an idea of its size, a platform had to be provided for the workmen to stand on while sawing the cuts. To see a tree equal to this one means a trip to the California exposition.

AN INDIAN VILLAGE "FIND."

(From The Charlotte (N. C.) Observer.)

From Milwaukee comes news of the finding of an Indian village in Polk county, this state, and the unearthing of a number of relics. The find was made by George A. West president of the Wisconsin Archeological society, who locates it "in a cornfield between the plantation owned by Mrs. Charles Erskine, of Racine, Wis., and the monument erected at Howard Gap, on Skyuka mountain, in honor of Captain Howard and the soldiers who assisted him in defeating the Cherokee Indians in 1776." Mr. West says he found specimens of pottery of unusual design and in numerous quantities. There were indications that one side of the village was ancient and the other modern. Mr. West comes to this conclusion by the fact that the designs on the one were artistic and on the other crude. The location of this Indian village, he says, was unknown to the oldest inhabitants of Polk county, and his discovery, valuable as it must be from the archeological standpoint, does not seem to have thrown the county into any great degree of excitement, either.

KING GEORGE NOT IN HERO CLASS.

(From The Pittsburg Dispatch.)

The wave of hero worship in England may be measured by the fact that one London picture dealer reports having sold over 10,000 portraits of Lord Kitchener and Sir John Jellicoe, with an almost equal demand for Sir John French, King Albert, General Joffre and the Prince of Wales. Dealers report little increased demand for portraits of King George.

GOOD BATTING AVERAGE.

Sidney Lanier Monument.

(Piedmont Park, Atlanta, Ga., 1915.)

I.

Not voiceless is this carven stone,
This sculptured bust not mute,
They speak a language all their own,
Toned like an angel's lute;

II.

They say to us: "We speak for fame,
For beauty, for the true,
And for the dear and noble dame,
Who gave this gift to you;

III.

"We speak in praise of him"—how clear
The music of his name!—
"Of him, the crystal souled Lanier, Enthroned and crowned by Fame."

IV.

We hear them; but how sad to know,
That speaking stone and bust,
Time's ruthless hand will overthrow,
And crumble into dust.

V.

And yet, as long as sun and star,
In yonder heavens shall shine,
So long as souls are what they are,
Immortal and divine;

VI.

So long as heavenly Poesy,
The sovereign queen of arts,
Can claim for her divinity,
The homage of men's hearts,

VII.

So long in the world's heart shall be
A monument more dear,
Unveiled by Love and Memory,
And sacred to Lanier.

INCREASE IN LOANS FOR STATE PROMISED

James Wright, of Pan-American Life, Investigating Conditions Here.

For the purpose of materially increasing the investments of his company in Georgia, Secretary-Treasurer James L. Wright, of the Pan-American Life Insurance company, of New Orleans, has been spending several days in Atlanta and vicinity, particularly investigating the mortgage loan field.

Together with State Manager A. J. Shropshire, Jr., of this city, Mr. Wright has examined numerous commercial and residential investments in Atlanta, and has also taken an automobile tour of the agricultural sections near Atlanta and in adjoining counties.

"The people of Georgia," said Mr. Wright, in discussing investments in this state, "have demonstrated to the world their ability to overcome the greatest crisis through which the south has passed in fifty years, and to do so without loss of prestige or credit. Our company already has a very large sum of money invested in Georgia securities, and so satisfactory have they proven we have decided to largely increase our holdings, particularly of Georgia loans, on both city and country property. Notwithstanding the conditions prevailing throughout the entire south since last August, especially in the rural districts, we have not had default or delinquency on either interest or principal on any Georgia investment."

The Pan-American Life Insurance company, of New Orleans, absorbed the life insurance business of the Cosmopolitan Life Insurance company, of Atlanta, earlier in this year; removed their general agency for Georgia to this city, and, as a result of Mr. Wright's present trip, will make arrangements with Atlanta banks to handle their southeastern banking and collection business, and also establish mortgage loan connections for farm and city loans.

The present state offices of the company in the Third National Bank building, in Atlanta, through which both the life insurance and the investment business of the company will be handled, are in charge of A. J. Shropshire, Jr., as state manager, who has associated with him Messrs. J. A. Riley and Walter P. Callaway.

Melon Distributors Of Three States Here To Form Organization

The Southeastern Melon Distributors' association was organized by about one hundred distributors from the melon belt of Georgia, Florida and Alabama at the Ansley hotel Wednesday morning.

It was declared at the meeting that this year's crop, which will go on the market about June 5, will be as large as last year's. Representatives of the Southern Freight Claim Agents' association promised the distributors close co-operation.

The following officers of the melon distributors' association were elected: David Brown, of Albany, Ga., president; C. C. Winkler, of Vincennes, Ind., vice president; R. H. Pennington, of Evansville, Ind., secretary and treasurer. The executive committee is composed of James Leonard, of Cincinnati; Fuller Groover, of Quitman; D. H. Gilbert, of Monticello; C. C. Winkler, of Vincennes, and O. K. Jelks, of Quitman.

WILL GIVE RECEPTION TO OLD GUARD OFFICERS

The newly elected officers of the Old Guard will be tendered a reception and ball by the organization in the ball room of the Ansley hotel Thursday evening. The officers and members will attend in blue fatigue uniforms. Refreshments will be served during the evening.

The following officers and their ladies will constitute the reception committee: Colonel J. F. Burke, honorary commander; Major Edwin L. Wight, major commanding; Captain John W. Murrell, adjutant; Captain A. McD. Wilson, commissary; Captain W. O. Wilson, quartermaster; Captain George M. Hope, Captain Harrison Jones, Lieutenant T. A. Kemp, Lieutenant Frank Berry, Lieutenant Frank Ridge, Lieutenant E. L. Bergstrom, honorary staff and their aides.

TAKE VOTE OF PATRONS ON CHANGE IN SCHEDULE

Following several hearings on the petition of the citizens of Buckhead and other towns beyond Convers on the Georgia railroad to have the schedule of the Buckhead special changed so that it will leave Buckhead about 6:30 in the morning instead of 4:30 and arrive in Atlanta at 9:30 instead of 6:30, the state railroad commission is now taking a vote of patrons of the line to learn just what the effect of the change would be. Patrons this side of Convers declare that to change the schedule as requested will put them into Atlanta too late to transact a day's business.

TOM HARRISON SPEAKS TO PRESBYTERIAN MEN

Rev. Tom Harrison, of Nashville, Tenn., will address the Presbyterian men of Atlanta at the Central Presbyterian church on Washington street, opposite the state capitol, this evening at 8 o'clock. Mr. Harrison comes under the auspices of the Christian Helpers' league and his address will be in line with the work this league is doing.

GIRLS WILL DEBATE MILITARY SERVICE FOR THE MEN FOLKS

"Resolved, That the United States government should require of all able-bodied male citizens, between the ages of 18 and 30, one year of military service in the regular army" is the subject to be contested at the annual debate between Agnes Scott college and the Sophie Newcomb college, of New Orleans, on Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Agnes Scott auditorium in Decatur.

Great excitement in anticipation of the event reigns at Agnes Scott, where the students held a mass meeting on Tuesday night to instill into the young women enthusiasm and determination to carry off the honors on this occasion. Last year the first debate between these two institutions and the first ever held between any women's colleges in the south took place at Sophie Newcomb and was won by the Agnes Scott team.

The subject for debate was chosen by the Sophie Newcomb team, while the debaters from Agnes Scott chose the negative side. The affirmative will be represented by Miss Adele Drouet and Miss Lulie Westfeldt, with Miss Ruth Heller as alternate, from Sophie Newcomb; the negative by Miss Kate Richardson, of Washington, Ga.; Miss Mary Helen Schneider, of Chattanooga, Tenn., with Miss Ruth Cofer, of Atlanta, as alternate, from Agnes Scott.

Many entertainments are being planned for the visitors from New Orleans while they are guests of the Decatur institution. They will reach Atlanta on Saturday morning, and will be met at the depot by a committee of Agnes Scott students.

The general public is cordially invited to attend the debate, and an interesting discussion from a logical standpoint is assured.

Confidence in Cotton Shown by Dr. Pearce Justified by Price

"When I predicted last fall that cotton would be selling for 10 cents a pound before the end of my scholastic year, and took cotton in payment for scholarships on a basis of 10 cents a pound, many thought I was doing a foolish thing. I have sold some of this cotton at 10 cents a pound, and believe all of it will be sold at that price, or above," said Dr. H. J. Pearce, president of Brenau College-Conservatory at Gainesville, who is in the city for a few days.

It is recalled that Dr. Pearce early in September of 1914, when cotton was a drug on the market and was bringing around 6 cents per pound on the wagon, advertised throughout the south that he would accept cotton from those parents who had raised their cotton and were unable to sell it on account of the low price, and who wished to send their daughters to college.

Dr. Pearce's offer was freely accepted, and for the past six months he has carried in the warehouse over 150 bales of cotton, and has enrolled at Brenau between fifteen and twenty girls who owe their attendance to Dr. Pearce's belief that cotton would sell for 10 cents per pound.

Real Estate Man Gets Injunction Too Late And Fence Goes Down

After imposing a fine of $5.75 on E. C. Callaway, a well-known realty man of the Gate City Realty company, for erecting a fench across Iverson street, in Edgewood, partly closing the street, Recorder Johnson instructed Mounted Policeman E. O. Eddleman to tear the fence down.

Mr. Callaway hurried to the courthouse to get an injunction preventing the officer from carrying out the order of the recorder. When he arrived at Iverson street, where his fence had stood, he found that the officer was tearing away the last plank.

Mr. Callaway says that he will carry the case to a higher court, promising a hot court battle over the recorder's decision.

Callaway claims that the city should have built a 50-foot street through his subdivision, instead of a 50-foot street, and he, accordingly, built a fence which stood halfway in the middle of Iverson street.

Atlanta Companies Interested in Probe Of Death of Barton

For the reason that several Atlanta insurance companies, including the Penn Mutual, Michigan Life and Maryland Casualty, are involved, there is considerable interest in Atlanta in the cases of L. Walton and E. E. Mason, who are held for the death of M. O. Barton, a youth and partner of Walton, who was found murdered in a suburb of Birmingham, April 8.

Barton carried four insurance policies, aggregating $35,000, and taken out in the last ninety days, payable to the Walton Trading company, in which he and Walton were partners. The insurance companies allege that the Walton Trading company was organized for the purpose of allowing Walton to collect the large sum of insurance.

P. C. McDuffie, Atlanta attorney representing two of the companies, went to Birmingham directly after the murder to make an investigation. Detectives and investigators from Atlanta and Chicago are continuing the investigation.

No More Will "Pickle Jim" And "Skating Rink Babe" Enjoy a Life of Ease

Eleven negroes were arraigned in the recorder's court Wednesday afternoon on the charge of vagrancy. Seven were fined $5.75 each, and the cases against four were dismissed because the defendants proved they had some kind of jobs.

Among the notables who were sent to the stockade for loafing were "Pickle Jim" and "Skating Rink Babe."

CHARGE TIMOTHY MISUSED THE MAILS

Hugh W. Timothy, member of a prominent Chattanooga family, is on trial in the federal district court on the charge of using the mails for fraud.

The charge is that Timothy ran an employment bureau scheme by which he offered to give employment to Pullman car porters, charging a fee. He is said to have operated under the alias of W. E. Poliere. It is alleged that he had no authority from the Pullman company to run any such bureau.

Timothy was indicted over a year ago when he was a student at the Atlanta Medical college.

NO COMMISSION YET ON THE CREMATORY

No action was taken on Judge Newman's suggestion on Wednesday morning for the appointment of a crematory commission because City Attorney James L. Mayson could not be present at the conference between the city and the attorneys representing the New York Destructor company.

Judge Newman announced that the matter would be taken up by him this morning. He said that he believed if such a commission was appointed and an inspection made of the plant the crematory controversy might be settled without any further litigation.

NEW UNITARIAN CHURCH DEDICATED ON SUNDAY

Services Will Be Conducted by the Pastor, Dr. J. Wade Conkling.

Dedication services, Dr. J. Wade Conkling, pastor, officiating, at the new Unitarian church, a beautiful structure of English gothic architecture at 301 West Peachtree street, will be held Sunday morning.

The exterior finishing of the new church, which is of tapestry brick, trimmed with stones, presents a most pleasing effect upon the eye. The interior, designed in early English, with handsomely designed ceiling, large trusses, ornamented, and with pews of solid oak, is also in keeping with the general architectural scheme of old English.

This newest Atlanta church is one of the most beautiful in the city. It has a seating capacity of 225.

Services Sunday morning will be featured by the first appearance of the newly organized choir. It is composed of such well-known singers as Howard Wiley Davis, for three years with the Trinity Methodist church choir, as first tenor; Hanson W. Jones, for several years prominent in church musical circles among the Episcopalians, as second tenor; Howard S. Cole, president of the Cole Book company, as first basso, and John Hoffman, a pupil of Wilford Watters, as second basso.

One of the interior features of the beautiful new church is the stained glass window in the front of the church, which is erected in loving remembrance of Dr. and Mrs. George Cheney, the founders of the work of the Unitarian church in Atlanta, and the first pastor of the church for a number of years in the early eighties.

The first Unitarian church was built in 1884 on the site where now stands the Carnegie library.

A new church, built in 1899, was located at Spring and West Cain street, under the ministry of Rev. Clarence Langston.

From its earliest inception the Unitarian church has steadily grown in membership, and today, with Dr. Conkling as pastor, the prospects for continued growth are brighter than ever.

MRS. VICTOR VERDI COMES TO ATLANTA TO VISIT BROTHER

A pretty little girl, who gave her name as Mrs. Victor Verdi, and her age as 16, walked into the police station last night about 9:30 o'clock and asked that she be given a place to sleep.

Mrs. Bohnefeld, the matron, stated that the girl had told her she was from north Georgia, and that she was in Atlanta seeking her brother. She told the matron that she had gone to the place in Atlanta that her brother had given as his address, and that the people who ran the place, a local boarding house, had told her her brother had gone to south Georgia to work. She had no money for lodging, so was directed to the police station.

HOWARD TO ADDRESS GROCERS AND BUTCHERS

Congressman William Schley Howard, of the fifth, is scheduled to address the members of the Retail Grocers' and Butchers' association tonight at a smoker which will be held in the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce building. President O. T. Camp will preside.

The association has extended a cordial invitation to the wholesale grocers, butchers and packers and the city salesmen to be their guests on this occasion, and a pleasant and profitable evening is promised all who attend.

GOVERNMENT WANTS MORE STENOGRAPHERS

There are constant calls for stenographers for field work, states T. C. Shaw, secretary of the civil service bureau in Atlanta.

"I would like to secure the names of all persons who want such a job," says the secretary.

Examinations for field stenographers will be held in Atlanta on May 18-19.

CIVIC CLUB WILL HOLD MEETING AT 3 O'CLOCK

The Second Ward Civic club will hold a meeting at 3 o'clock this afternoon at Pryor Street schoolhouse.

The ward boundaries are: North, Capitol square; south, Ridge avenue; east, east side of Capitol avenue; west, McDaniel street.

This is a big ward and all the women are urged to attend the meeting and become active members.

MRS. BOHNEFELD HOLDS UP PETITION TO GET A PENSION

Mrs. Mary Bohnefeld, the police matron, who has prepared a petition asking for a pension, stated Wednesday afternoon that so many of her friends and so many of the city officials had requested her to retain her position a while longer that she was in doubt as to whether or not she would push the matter.

"I will hold up the petition a few days," she said Wednesday to a Constitution reporter. "I have served the city for twenty years, seven years with the Grady hospital and thirteen years as police matron. I am now 63 years old and I would like to rest from official work. It seems that I have pleased the city government so well that they don't like the idea of letting me retire. I believe, however, that since I am entitled to a pension I will file the petition."

FRANK PARDON PLEA WILL BE COMPLETED WITHIN A FEW DAYS

The preparation of the petition for Leo Frank's life to be presented to the prison commission and governor by his counsel will be completed, it is thought, within the next few days. The first conference between attorneys was held in the office of Leonard J. Haas Tuesday night. A second conference was held last night, in which were included H. A. Alexander, Luther Rosser and Reuben Arnold.

Much interest is being centered on the selection of counsel to argue the petition before the commission. It is generally believed that Reuben Arnold, who delivered one of the most forceful arguments at the Frank trial, will be decided upon. No definite decision, however, has as yet been reached.

D. A. R. AND U. D. C. WANT LIBERTY BELL SHOWN IN ATLANTA

The local chapters of the D. A. R. and the U. D. C. will make a personal appeal to Mayor Blankenburg, of Philadelphia, to have the famous Liberty Bell brought to Atlanta in its trip to the Panama-Pacific exposition, where it will be taken for exhibition.

The matter will be taken up at the next meetings of the Daughters of the American Revolution and the United Daughters of the Confederacy and the details of the petition arranged. New Orleans will lend its co-operation, as that city is anxious for the opportunity of seeing the bell.

PLANS ARE COMPLETED FOR CONKLIN LECTURE

Arrangements have been completed by the Atlanta Anti-Tuberculosis association, with the assistance of the Atlanta Ad Men, for the free lecture on tuberculosis prevention by Dr. J. Wade Conkling, chairman of the association's educational committee, at the Grand opera house next Sunday night at 8:15 o'clock.

The lecture will be accompanied both by stereopticon and moving picture views illustrative of the dangers of tuberculosis, and showing methods of prevention. The lecture has been arranged under the auspices of the Ad Men, in pursuance of the educational feature of the association's work.

The public is cordially invited to attend this lecture. It will be absolutely free and no collection will be taken.

CALOMEL DYNAMITES A SLUGGISH LIVER

Crashes into sour bile, making you sick and you lose a day's work.

Calomel salivates! It's mercury. Calomel acts like dynamite on a sluggish liver. When calomel comes into contact with sour bile it crashes into it, causing cramping and nausea.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a 50-cent bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow; besides, it may salivate you, while if you take Dodson's Liver Tone you will wake up feeling great, full of ambition and ready for work or play. It's harmless, pleasant and safe to give to children; they like it.

THE WINDOW LOOK IN

First Impressions

About the first thing a visitor notices in a city new to him is that city's street railroad. He can't help seeing it. It's before his eyes.

Consciously or unconsciously HE FORMS FROM IT ONE OF HIS VERY FIRST IMPRESSIONS of the city it's serving.

If it's shabby, dilapidated, dejected, discouraged, inefficient, the new comer's impression's sure to be unfavorable.

If the street railroad's EFFICIENT, if it's vehicles are NEAT and ATTRACTIVE, if it's employees are POLITE and COURTEOUS as contented men must be, THE VISITOR'S IMPRESSION'S CERTAIN TO BE FAVORABLE.

And first impressions COUNT. They make or mar anything, anybody, unless later impressions are tremendously powerful. THEY'RE NEVER ENTIRELY ERASED FROM A NEWCOMER'S MIND.

Atlanta is a prideful city today BECAUSE SHE'S MADE GOOD FIRST-IMPRESSIONS ON STRANGERS through many years back. Thousands of 'em have stayed or returned.

A prosperous street railroad has incentive to give good service, pay good wages, keep its cars and other equipment neat and efficient, extend existing lines, build new ones, enlarge its plants, contribute to the promotion of public enterprises.

Therefore you're BOUND TO BE INTERESTED in our part in the city's great works.

MAYOR PLANS TO DELAY PRYOR STREET PAVING

Woodward May Decline to Sign Vouchers for the Work.

Prospects of delaying the South Pryor paving project indefinitely loomed up Wednesday, in spite of the fact that council has overridden the mayor's veto and the aldermanic board is expected to concur this afternoon. Mayor Woodward declares he has still another line of attack—a refusal to sign the vouchers for the work.

"It is illegal, and even though they resorted to mandamus to force me to approve the vouchers, I am certain I would win in the courts," declared the mayor. "In the first place it was an illegal act when the belgian block were torn up on Pryor street, and it is illegal to lay a free pavement as they propose to do."

The mayor opposed brick for Pryor street, and recommended concrete. Council, however, passed over his veto a resolution authorizing the use of brick and expected to see work begin within the next ten days or two weeks.

With the possibility of a court fight ahead, it may follow that the brick people would not be willing to take chances on getting pay for their brick. This would mean a delay," since more bids would be necessary, and it is probable that the second ward delegation would be forced to begin again at the bottom of the matter.

While the mayor has urged that concrete be laid on some of Atlanta's streets and given a thorough test, he will not oppose the paving of Grant street with wood block as provided in a resolution passed by council Monday. "I do not approve of wood block on streets where there is a grade, as obtains on Grant street, but since the majority of the abutting property owners seem to want it, I don't think I will disapprove of it," said the mayor. "They will learn when they are called on to pay for it that it will be an expensive proposition, however, and will not prove satisfactory."

REVIVAL CONTINUES AT PAYNE MEMORIAL

One of the most enthusiastic revival meetings which has been held in years at Payne Memorial church is now being successfully carried on by Rev. George W. Duvall. The meeting has been in progress for two weeks, and this week the services will continue. The large auditorium of Payne Memorial is being crowded daily, and much good is being accomplished.

A large number has already joined the church, and every indication leads to the belief that before this week is ended many more additions will result.

The striking personality of Dr. Duvall has lent largely to the success of the meeting. He is preaching the old-time religion with his characteristic earnestness and fervor. He attacks sin and vices unrelentingly, not hesitating to put a stamp of disapproval upon it, yet at the close of his sermon his calls to the unsaved are tender and touching.

Services are being held every night at 7:30 o'clock, and the public is cordially invited.

GLENN TO DELIVER ADDRESS SATURDAY ON WOMAN'S POWER

Ex-Governor R. B. Glenn will reach Atlanta this morning, and will remain in the city for several days. Tonight he speaks at Cedartown and Friday night at Marietta.

Saturday afternoon of this week he delivers his chautauqua address on "Woman's Power Applied" at the North Avenue Presbyterian church, corner Peachtree and North avenue. The address, which is free, will be for women only. A number of women's clubs and other organizations, both church and social societies, are arranging to attend—some of them in bodies.

The pastor, Rev. Dr. Flinn, and others are managing every detail for a profitable and pleasant occasion. All ladies invited.

CITY PRISON BUILDINGS TO BE INSPECTED TODAY

An inspection of the city prison buildings and farm will be made Friday morning by the prison committee of council, of which Alderman J. R. Seawright is chairman. The committee, under a city ordinance, is required to make a personal inspection of the prison each month.

ONE CENT LETTER POSTAGE BEING AGITATED

One cent postage rate on letters is again being brought into prominence and many high officials declare that it is sure to come in the near future. All classes of business would be greatly benefited by its adoption, and estimated statistics show there would be such an increased demand for stamps that the apparent loss of revenue would be more than made up.

It is an impossibility to place an estimated value on health, it being a most priceless possession—but, perhaps you have been careless or negligent and have allowed weakness to develop until you are now in a badly run-down condition, with poor appetite, impaired digestion and constipated bowels.

In order to get back to health and strength you must first help Nature restore the Stomach, Liver and Bowels to a normal condition. This suggests the friendly aid of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. You will find it an excellent tonic, appetizer and strength-maker and well worthy of your confidence.

It is an absolutely pure medicine, adapted to all ordinary family ailments, and your health will be greatly improved by giving it a fair trial at once. Be sure you get the genuine Hostetter's Stomach Bitters with our Private Stamp over the neck of Bottle.

Barons Hammer Cracker Twirlers

Edited By Dick Jemison

Baron Batsmen Hammer Thompson and Manning; Storm Breaks Up Game

GAME IN DETAIL.

Today's game between the Barons and the Crackers, starting at 3:15 o'clock, will be called in detail by Dick Jemison, at his baseball parlors on the viaduct, the admission fee being 25 cents. All the other games by innings.

Birmingham, Ala., April 21.—(Special.)—The Baron batsmen had a jubilee in the first and fifth innings this afternoon, and the champions walked away with the first game of a four-game series with the Crackers by the score of 11 to 7.

A young cloudburst, preceded by a violent windstorm, broke up the game after the Crackers had had their half of the sixth inning, and as it had required two hours and ten minutes to drag along this far, and it was raining hard, Umpire Rudderham, after a brief wait, called the game.

Carl Thompson, former Baron, started for the Crackers, but with one run already in and three men still on the sacks, Bill Smith yanked him and sent in Ed Manning. Manning was nicked for four more runs in the opening session, and in the fifth was touched up for six blows and as many runs.

Crackers Fight Hard.

The Crackers fought hard, but the Barons were not to be denied, or rather the Cracker twirlers continued to fling them right where a Baronial batsman happened to be swinging, and although they overcame the five-run lead, piling it up, the six runs in the fifth, together with the cloudburst, put the finishing touch on.

The Crackers started after the six-run lead like they meant business. After driving Omar Hardgrove off the mound in five innings, they made two runs in the sixth, when the wind and rainstorm stopped them. What they might have done in the remaining three innings remains to be seen. At least Manager Smith thought that they had a chance by having Browning warming up after his help got those two runs in.

Captain Bisland was the hitting star for the Crackers, getting a single, a double and a triple in three times up. Bowden and Williams were close behind with two blows each.

Hemingway led the Baronial attack with three safe smashes, with Coombs, Magee and McBride with two blows each.

Bowden opened the game for the Crackers with a single to left. Williams, beat out his bunt down the third base line. Ethel tried to sacrifice, but fanned. Moran forced Williams at second, but Bisland kicked in with a pinch double, sending Bowden home.

Barons' Big First.

Coombs greeted Thompson with a double to left. Magee singled, scoring Coombs and took second on the throw to the plate. Clark walked and Sloan beat out a bunt down the third base line, filling the bags. Thompson was yanked and Manning sent in. McBride greeted him with a triple, clearing the bases, and Hemingway sent McBride home with a double to left, after Tullos had dropped his pop foul.

Bisland opened the Crackers' fourth with a triple to center. Rumler walked and stole. Bisland scored on a wild pitch, Rumler going to third, from where he scored on Tullos' infield out.

Williams singled to start the Crackers' fifth. Ethel fanned, but Moran singled, Williams going to third. Bisland singled, scoring Williams and sending Moran to third. Bisland was caught in a chase and Moran scored while he was being tagged out. This tied up the game.

The Barons put it on ice when Magee opened the sixth for the Barons with a triple. Clark scored him with a double. McBride tripled, scoring Clark. Hemingway singled, scoring McBride. Hemingway stole second. Ellam walked, Hemingway stole third, Wallace singled and Hemingway scored. Black popped to Manning, who threw wild to first and both men advanced. Coombs scored Ellam and Wallace with a single.

Tullos singled to start the Crackers' sixth. Jenkins forced him. Manning bunted and on Black's error, both were safe. Bowden doubled, scoring both men. After the Crackers were retired the rain came.

Browning and Niederkorn for the Crackers and Grimes and Wallace for the Barons will be the probable batteries Thursday.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Tigers 4, White Sox 3.

Detroit, Mich., April 21.—Rallying in the eighth and ninth innings, the Detroit Tigers won from Chicago today 4 to 3, and made a clean sweep of the four-game series. Russell was invincible until the eighth. When Detroit's half of that inning began Jennings' men were three runs behind. A triple by Bush, Young's infield out and doubles by Cobb and Crawford produced two runs. Kavanagh opened the ninth with a single. Russell made a wild throw of Vitt's bunt and Kavanagh took third. Faber replaced Russell and fanned Moriarty, batting for McKee. Fuller batted for Boehler and made an infield hit, filling the bases. Bush walked, forcing in Kavanagh and the winning run was scored when Young beat out an infield hit.

Yanks 8, Athletics 0.

Philadelphia, April 21.—New York got only five hits off Bressler and Harper today, but three of these were doubles, and all of the extra-base drives were mixed with passes and an error, and the visitors won, 8 to 0. Fisher was in grand form and was given splendid support. After Bressler gave three passes in the third inning, Cook cleared the sacks with a double and scored on Boone's double. Oldring made a wonderful one-hand leaping catch which robbed Maisel of a home run.

Senators 11, Red Sox 3.

Washington, April 21.—Bunched hits, bases on balls and errors gave Washington an 11 to 3 victory today in the last game of the series with Boston. Collins was wild and ineffective in six innings, and Comstock, who relieved him, was no improvement. Milan batted a home run with one on base; Lewis hit one with the bases empty.

Naps 3, Browns 1.

St. Louis, April 21.—Timely hitting gave Cleveland another victory over St. Louis today, 3 to 1. Shotton's single, followed by E. Walker's double, saved St. Louis from a shut out. The game was called at the end of the sixth inning to permit Cleveland to catch a train. In the fourth inning while chasing a foul Severoid crashed into the stand and was knocked unconscious. Agnew relieved him.

Dodgers 8, Braves 4.

Boston, April 21.—After winning four games of the series from Brooklyn, the Braves lost today, 8 to 4. It was a game of erratic pitching, Boston using four twirlers and Brooklyn two. Sherrod Smith, of Brooklyn, and James, of Boston, the latter making his first appearance of the season, were the only pitchers at all effective. Wheat made several difficult catches.

Phillies 6, Giants 1.

New York, April 21.—The Philadelphia Nationals made a clean sweep of their series with New York, winning the fourth game 6 to 1. It was the sixth straight victory for Philadelphia and the fifth consecutive defeat for McGraw's former champions. George Chalmers, who went south with the New York team this spring and was permitted to sign yesterday with Philadelphia, pitched against his training camp associates and held them to two singles. Cravath broke up Perritt's game in the third inning when he doubled with the bases full.

FEDERAL LEAGUE

Buffalo 5, Baltimore 4.

Buffalo, N. Y., April 21.—By a batting rally and sharp work on the bases in the seventh inning Buffalo won today's game from Baltimore 5 to 4. Quinn started Buffalo's half of the seventh by walking two men. Three singles brought in three runs, and Hal Chase, who was on third base, scored the fourth tally when Hoffman involved the visitors' infield in a run-down between second and third bases.

Batteries: Cullop and Easterly, Allen, Leclair and Berry.

Newark 5, Brooklyn 3.

Newark, N. J., April 21.—Manager Magee, of the Brooklyn Federals, made a strenuous effort to win today's game by using fifteen men in an attempt to batter down the stiff opposition put up by the Newarks, but his team was beaten 5 to 3. A ninth-inning rally netted two runs, but flickered out before the Brooklyns could tie it up.

HICKMAN AND MELTER CANNED BY LOOKOUTS

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 21.—The release of Center Fielder Hickman and Pitcher Melter, of the Chattanooga club, was announced here today. "Kid" Elberfeld, who was signed as a free agent this week, will replace Hickman in center. Pitcher Marshall, who was secured from Nashville, will replace Melter.

YELLOW JACKETS DOWN COMMODORES

Heisman's Collegians Display Their Best Wares. First-Inning Rally Cinched Game—Score, 7 to 2.

By Hal Reynolds.

Springing a batting rally in the first inning, the Tech team sent home enough runs to sew up their game with the Vanderbilt Commodores yesterday afternoon at Grant field, the final result being, Tech 7, Vandy 2.

The Tech team put up the best article of ball that it has displayed locally this season, the men fielding well with men on bases, and also hitting strongly in the pinches. Coupled with the air-tight twirling of Bryant, the visitors had very little chance of success.

"Scrappy" Moore, who held down third base during the season of 1912 for the Jackets, was at the hot station for the Commodores, and received a rousing ovation from the Tech rooters.

Pruitt, playing first for Vandy, hit the longest ball that has yet been hit on Grant field in the sixth inning, when he caught one of Bryant's offerings on the nose and sent it to deep center field, the ball hitting the ground just a few yards this side of the pine tree in center. It was the first homer to be hit on Grant field, but it aided Vandy but little, as Pruitt failed to touch first base.

Neely Is Hit Hard.

Neely started off to do the pitching for Vanderbilt, but was forced to retire after the third inning after being touched up for seven hits and six runs. McDonald took up the hurling at Neely's departure and performed creditably.

Bryant came through with his best brand of twirling of the year for Tech, walking but one man and allowing but five hits.

Tech annexed twelve safe blows off the two opposing twirlers—more hits than they have secured in any other game this season.

Former Jacket Stars.

For Vandy, the playing of Moore at third was the best. His single in the first round scored one run, and he scored the other one himself. He secured two hits and fielded sensationally.

Davidson, playing short for the visitors, pulled a beautiful catch in the fifth, when he ran back into short left field and caught Spence's fly.

For the Jackets there were many stars. C. Smith, at second, had a good day both at the bat and in the field. He secured two hits and had five assists.

Doc Witherington made a splendid catch of Pruitt's foul back of first in the first inning. He also accepted eighteen chances without an error.

Jim Preas did the best work for Tech with the stick by bingling safely three times out of five. One of his hits was a triple to the left field fence.

HANLON AND PERRY, BUDD AND YOUNG MEET AT BIJOU

Jimmy Perry and Eddie Hanlon will meet in a ten-round bout at the Bijou theater next Thursday night, the match being booked yesterday afternoon. They will clash in the main event of the card.

In the semi-wind-up, Kid Young and Battling Budd will be the attraction. They, too, will go ten rounds. In their last meeting they fought eight whirlwind rounds to a draw.

COLUMBIA TO PLAY FOOTBALL AGAIN

New York, April 21.—The university council decided today to permit Columbia university students again to play intercollegiate football under certain restrictions. Football was abolished in 1909.

All games are to be played on college grounds and on Saturdays or holidays, and games for the present are not to be played with Princeton, Harvard, Yale, Cornell and the University of Pennsylvania.

ATTENDANCE TROPHY GOES TO COLUMBIA

Savannah, Ga., April 21.—According to official announcement today by President N. P. Corish, Columbia, S. C., takes possession this year of The Columbus Ledger trophy offered for the city in the South Atlantic league showing the largest opening day attendance.

The official figures as given out by President Corish are: Columbia, 2,613; Charleston, 2,587; Columbus, 2,367; Macon, 2,319; Savannah, 2,167; Augusta, 2,079; Jacksonville, 1,868, and Albany, 1,650.

PITCHER REMNEAS MAY JOIN CRACKERS

St. Louis, April 21.—(Special.)—Pitcher Alexander Remneas, who purchased his own release from Denver to get a try-out with the Browns, was not taken on the first road trip tonight. He will be sent to the minors for more seasoning and will go either to Atlanta or Rochester. Remneas has worked twice as a rescue pitcher since the season started. He looks good but needs finish.

SOUTH ATLANTIC

Indians 8, Gamecocks 2.

Columbia, S. C., April 21.—Savannah bunched hits on Mitchell in the first and second innings today and had no difficulty in winning the third game of the series from Columbia, 8 to 2. Camnitz pitched well, though somewhat wild. Handiboe's work at bat and in the field featured.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Savannah .140 110 001—8 12 1
Columbia .001 000 010—2 7 5

Batteries—Camnitz and Short, Mitchell, Bartell and Stuart. Time, 1:40. Umpire, Norcum.

Scouts 6, Foxes 0.

Columbus, Ga., April 21.—Jacksonville turned the tables on Columbus this afternoon, shutting the home club out by the score of 6 to 0. Williams, a southpaw, was very strong for the visitors, and gave Columbus but four scattered hits, though he walked seven men and hit two. The batting of the visitors was the feature of the game. Leonard, a new second baseman, played a star game and had a big day at the bat, getting three hits out of four times up.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Jacksonville .202 101 000—6 11 0
Columbus .000 000 000—0 4 1

Batteries—Williams and Pierre; Boyle, Redding and Thompson. Time, 1:40. Umpire, Moran.

Gulls 2, Tourists 1.

Charleston, S. C., April 21.—Charleston won the deciding game of the series from Augusta today, 2 to 1. The game went ten innings, and was featured by the excellent work of the two pitchers. In the eighth Fillingim hit the score with a triple, and won it with a single in the tenth. A foul tip which struck Umpire Vitter's mask cut him over the right eye. He finished the game, however.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Augusta .000 000 100 0—1 7 1
Charleston .000 000 010 1—2 4 1

Batteries—Shirley and Dudley, Fillingim and Eubanks. Time, 1:45. Umpire, Vitter.

Peaches 10, Babies 4.

Macon, Ga., April 21.—Mathieu pitched a pretty game this afternoon, Macon winning from Albany, 10 to 4. Geary and Lawrence were hit freely. The visitors got to Mathieu in the ninth for four hits, which netted three runs, their only rally.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Albany .000 100 003—4 13 2
Macon .300 100 60x—10 12 2

Batteries—Geary, Lawrence, Erwin, Manush and Wells; Mathieu and Meehan. Time, 1:41. Umpire, Lauzon.

Chero-Cola Co. Donates Attendance Trophy to Georgia State League

President Dick Jemison, of the Georgia State league, announced yesterday that the attendance trophy, which is to be presented to the city with the largest paid attendance on opening day, had been donated by the Chero-Cola company, of Columbus, Ga., and is a handsome affair.

The Dothan, Thomasville and Brunswick teams open their season on Monday, the Valdosta, Waycross and Americus clubs on Wednesday. This cup will be presented to the city that has the largest paid attendance on those days.

The cup will be forwarded to the league headquarters on Monday, and as soon after the announcement of the winner is made as practical the trophy will be sent to the city winning same.

Arrangements are being perfected to have a "trophy presentation day" later in the season, at which time the cup will be presented to the manager of the team winning same by the Chero-Cola company representative.

Every city in the league is going to make an effort to land this trophy, and there will be a half-holiday proclamation issued by the mayors in all the cities on that date.

Teaching Him to Be a Thief

In "Oliver Twist" Dickens Gives the World Its Greatest Picture of Criminal Life

The Story of Fagin

and his famous pickpocket band told in "Oliver Twist," is only one of the many character stories so graphically told by this master writer. Their doings and sayings have become a part of every-day conversation. Old and young alike must know DICKENS to understand people you meet every day.

The Pickpocket Trust

In the United States

This sounds sensational, but Magistrate Levy, of New York City, a man who knows, says, "The pickpocket trust is well intrenched, has unlimited capital, retains its own lawyers, has the backing of bonding companies, a complete territory organization, and is controlled by an invisible board of directors." He tells in detail how the "field men" operate, how the managers and lawyers operate, and how the whole band is controlled by the officers. This story of present-day conditions makes the story of "Oliver Twist" give new interest to the great masterpiece of Dickens.

The Constitution's Distribution of

DICKENS' WORKS

Is immensely successful. We anticipated this to a degree, because Dickens' books have steadily increased in popularity, and are read more today than ever before. The hundreds of characters which this immortal writer created are as well known as those who live around us, and are a part of English literature. Not to know them is to be ignorant of the best books in our language.

WHITE BOYS RESCUE BABIES FROM BLAZE

A fire, believed to have been of incendiary origin, burned last night the stables of Tom Byrd, a negro moving van operator, and five negro dwellings in Bungstead's alley, which runs from 51 Whitehall terrace to McDaniel street.

Frank Williamson, a brother-in-law to Byrd, is under arrest, suspected by the police of placing a can of kerosene in Byrd's stables and setting it afire.

Grady Nunnally, of 191 South Pryor street, while fighting the fire with a garden hose from the roof of 351 Whitehall street, was severely scorched by hot water about his face.

A negro, Oscar Byrd, son of the owner of the stables, was severely injured, when he wrenched his back attempting to escape from his burning home.

Three young boys, Cecil Webb, age 16, of 51 Whitehall terrace, and Harold Webb, age 13, and Charlie Brooks, age 16, who works at the Perry-Leslie drug store near by, rescued three negro babies and their mother from a burning home.

GEORGIA COLLEGES IN FOUR-CORNERED MEET AT MACON

Macon, Ga., April 21.—(Special.)—The week will be brought to a great close Saturday when Georgia, Emory, Tech and Mercer meet here to decide the track championship of the state. The meet will be conducted under the regular S. I. A. A. rules for track events. The events and the order in which they will come is as follows:

1. 100-yard run.
2. High jump.
3. Half-mile run.
4. 220-yard run.
5. Pole vault.
6. High hurdles.
7. Hammer throw.
8. 440-yard run.
9. Broad jump.
10. Low hurdles.
11. Shot put.
12. One-mile run.
13. Discus throw.
14. Relay race.

The officials for the meet have not as yet been decided upon, but the management has several well qualified men under consideration.

Baraca Sunday School League Is Organized; First Games Saturday

The Baraca Sunday School League of Atlanta completed organization at its last meeting Monday night, adopted schedule, and is ready for the opening game.

The league consists of six teams: Agonger of the Baptist Tabernacle, Grant Park Methodists, Oakland City Barnes, Wesley Memorial, Crawford team of the First Methodist and Bonnie Brae.

The officers of the league are Frank Todd, of the Oakland City Baraca, president; Fred Stephenson, of the Grant Park Methodists, vice president; Ernest Tomlinson, of the Agogas, secretary-treasurer.

The league opens its season April 24, and plays fifteen Saturday afternoon games.

The opening games are:

First—Methodists and Grant Park, at Grant Park.

Agogas and Wesley Memorial, at Brisbane.

Bonnie Brae and Oakland City, at Oakland City.

The league will be a fast one, and some good amateur ball is expected. The public are cordially invited to attend the games of the league, and they will be conducted in a clean sportsmanlike manner that would be expected of a Baraca Sunday school league.

MORRIS BROWN BEATS TENN. STATE NORMAL

The Morris Brown Giants made it nine straights by defeating Tennessee State Normal yesterday afternoon by the score of 6 to 1. Wiley, pitching for the Giants, was in mid-season form and had the Tennessee boys at his mercy throughout the game and should have had a shut-out game to his credit. Morris Brown drew a bit Nesbitt to all corners of the lot. The features of the game were the catching of two drives, one by Baynard, the Morris Brown university left fielder, and the other by Dixon, the Tennessee State Normal left fielder.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
T. S. N. .000 000 001—1 7 4
M. B. U. .201 002 00x—6 9 2

Batteries—Tennessee State Normal, Nesbitt and Allison; Morris Brown university, Wiley and Addison.

Today the two teams will play the final game of the series and the game will most likely be a pitchers' duel between Cyclone Williams, of Morris Brown, and a southpaw for Tennessee State Normal.

Hold Executive Session.

The board then went into executive session, excluding even the heads of the police department and the reporters.

Beyond recalling Chief Beavers and the reporters and calling upon Chief Beavers to answer Moran's charge that he had called him (Moran) a crook, no action was taken at last night's meeting of the police board. Chief Beavers said he had a very dim recollection of the affair with Moran. Dr. Vaughn asked the chief to make a specific statement if he had called Moran a crook and the chief said he had not.

The committee then, after going into executive session once more, adjourned until next Monday night at 8 o'clock, when they will hold another executive session.

Citizens, though, who wish to make any complaints against the police, are welcomed to this meeting and are given assurances that they will not be cross-questioned by any member of the police force.

Police reporters of some of the newspapers and many policemen will be asked to tell what they know about the police department.

Chief Lanford filed a written report of the work done by the detectives of the city during the last forty days. His report showed that the fourteen detectives who were reduced to patrolmen forty days ago had made, while on duty as patrolmen in uniform, fully 90 per cent fewer arrests than they did during the forty days preceding their demotion.

TRICK CIRCUS RIDER KILLED IN NEW YORK

New York, April 21.—Otto Kline, a trick rider, fell in the sight of hundreds of persons as he leaped from one side of the saddle to the other on his horse at today's performance of Barnum & Bailey's circus in Madison Square Garden. He was picked up with a fractured skull and hurried to a hospital, where he died. Kline had won many prizes in various parts of the country as a daring rider.

SEE-SAW TRADING ON WHEAT MARKET

The Bullish Effects of Foreign Buying of September Wheat Offset by News of Developments Abroad.

Chicago, April 21.—Bullish effects of foreign buying of September wheat were sharply offset at times by news of political and military developments abroad. Closed unsettled at 1-4 to 1 1-8c net advance. Corn finished with 1-8 to 3-8c gain, oats, 1-2c off to a 1-16c up, and provisions varying from 7 1-2c decline to a rise of a shade.

Changes in wheat had as a whole a see-saw character throughout, but with May relatively most depressed and September developing comparative strength.

In the end wheat was up grade.

Corn swayed with wheat. Argentine crop damage reports and active cash demand here from the east gave the market some independent strength.

Rainy weather made oats easy. Besides no export sales were noted. Provisions sagged on lower hog prices. On the break, however, offerings passed into strong hands.

Closed steady.

New York, April 21.—Cotton was easier under more or less general realizing or liquidation. Closed steady at a net decline of 12 to 16 points.

It opened 6 to 7 points lower on relatively easy cables and after some irregularity, prices eased still further under heavy Liverpool, Wall street, southern and western selling. Offerings were quite well taken by spot house buying of near months and covering or bull support of later deliveries and after Liverpool's close pressure became less active and prices rallied some 6 or 7 points from the lowest. The buying, however, encountered another wave of selling orders, and after publication of the weekly weather report indicating satisfactory progress with farm work and planting, the market was unsettled with prices reaching a net loss of 14 to 18 points in late trading.

Some local spot interests were credited with selling freely on the decline which was accompanied by reports of increased spot offerings in the interior and a less active demand from exporters. October contracts broke to 10.62, or about 24 points from Monday's high records, with the close a shade up from the lowest on covering.

It was estimated around the ring that houses with Liverpool connections had sold 100,000 bales here in the last few days, presumably on straddles and local commission house people said there had been a great many small long accounts liquidated during today's trading.

Rumors that beneficial rains were falling in Alabama contributed to the afternoon decline, while part of the early buying was encouraged by reports of continued strength in the goods market.

Exports for the day were only 11,380 bales, making 6,957,12 so far this season. Port stocks, 24,283. United States port stocks, 1,457,130; interior receipts, 1,[illegible].

Spot cotton quiet; middling uplands, 10.10; sales, 100 bales.

11-15 Decline in New Orleans.

New Orleans, April 21.—Cotton fell selling pressure today from first to last. At no time were prices above the level of yesterday's close. Much of the selling was on short account, but offerings from originating longs also, at times, were liberal. Favorable crop and weather reports were the main influence; they caused selling in Liverpool, according to private messages, and selling on this side as soon as business opened.

The market closed at practically the lowest of the day, a loss of 11 to 15 points. At one time in the early part of the session there was a momentary rally which carried prices within a couple of points of yesterday's last figures, but the favorable weekly reports from the weather bureau caused renewed selling under which the market broke.

Reports from the interior were that the rains of the last few days were highly beneficial and that planting was making fast headway, with much cotton coming up. Holders of long cotton plainly were nervous over references to a full planting in many sections of the belt.

Spot cotton quiet, unchanged; sales on the spot, 1,875; to arrive, none; good ordinary, 7.55; strict good ordinary, 8.11; low middling, 8.74; strict low middling, 9.19; middling, 9.68; strict middling, 9.81; good middling, 10.13; strict good middling, 10.50. Receipts, 7,242; stocks, 257,680.

Remarks.

Washington, D. C., April 21, 1914.—Summary of weather and crop conditions in the cotton belt for the week ending April 20, 1915:

The week everywhere was favorable for cotton planting, which is now well under way. In Texas, Oklahoma and portions of adjoining states the soil is well supplied with moisture, but to the eastward rain is generally needed for the germination of seed. In the southern trucking districts the season is late and rain is needed except in Texas; growth is slow on account of cool nights. Fruit is promising; grain and grass are good, but are needing rain in most districts.

New York, April 21.—(Special.)—Heavy selling by Liverpool in the market today, together with a favorable report from the government as to weather conditions over the south, started liquidation which carried prices down about 15 points. For ten days now Liverpool has been a steady seller here, which has greatly increased the supply of contracts. As a result the market on advances meets with greater resistance and therefore reactions are more frequent, however, the demand is still in good volume and the market retains a steady tone despite the increased selling power.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, April 21.—(Special.)—Liverpool declined to follow the advance of last evening, basing its action on advices that at present prices there would be only a small reduction in acreage and therefore we must expect lower prices. This view has been expressed before, but it is now put forth with more confidence than at any time this season. The foreign markets were greatly impressed, believing that the present level of prices is not justified and they have been free sellers of cotton here all the morning on the short side and on arbitrage transactions. European houses have a monopoly under the Lever bill of these arbitrage transactions and they are not slow to take advantage of the privileges given them. The local trade naturally are confirmed in their bearish views by the decline of today.

TRADE IRREGULAR ON STOCK MARKET

Frequent Periods of Relative Dullness Feature Session, Though Transactions Exceed 1,000,000 Shares.

New York, April 21.—The most notable feature of today's irregular stock market consisted of frequent periods of relative dullness, in striking contrast to recent feverish sessions. Transactions, however, again exceeded 1,000,000 shares of the seventh consecutive full session.

On the surface there were signs that what is vaguely known as the substantial interests, including a large proportion of the professional element, had renewed operations on the selling side under cover of spasmodic gains in specialties.

Rock Island was again a disturbing factor, declining below its minimum price of the previous session and constituting one of the most active issues in the list. Its heaviness found immediate reflection in the southwestern group of railroads which fell 3 to 6 points, presumably on apprehension that these properties might be handicapped in their impending financial readjustments.

United States Steel was under steady pressure and relinquished leadership to Amalgamated Copper.

Total sales of stocks, 1,010,000 shares.

Trading in bonds marked a high record for more than a year. Total sales, par value, aggregated $7,550,000.

United States bonds, unchanged on call.

Dry Goods.

New York, April 21.—Cotton goods firm today and cotton yarns stronger. The carpet auctions were as well attended as on previous days and prices ran ahead of many of the values paid on the opening days. Knit goods in more active demand. Laces and embroideries showed an improved demand.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

Building continued to gain steadily on yesterday, a number of residence permits being issued, and an application for an apartment house permit, amounting to $60,000, was filed.

The name of the builder is not disclosed, and it is hardly likely the permit will be issued this month. The apartment is to be built on the north side, with two stories.

Five Residence Permits.

Mrs. S. E. Miller took out a permit to build a one story, six-room frame dwelling, at 120 Whiteford avenue, to cost $2,000. E. W. Smith took permits to build three one-story, four-room frame dwellings, at Nos. 13, 17 and 19 Nelms street, cost $1,000 each. F. H. Abbey took a permit to build a one story, six-room frame house, at 271 Ashby street, cost $1,250.

A number of small alterations and repair jobs were granted permits, which boosted the day's building somewhat.

Healey Building Leases.

The Western Union has leased fifteen offices on the fifth floor of the Healey building, which will be used by the district manager and the auditing department, the company requiring additional rooms.

As already announced in The Constitution, the Louisville and Nashville railroad some time ago leased nine offices on the seventh floor, where the road's division passenger and freight offices are located.

The Travelers' Insurance company has also leased office space in the Healey building.

The leases were handled by A. F. Liebman, agent of the building.

Peters Street Store Lease.

A large three-story building at 87 to 97 Peters street, including extensive loft space and store rooms, was leased by Hugh Richardson to the Siegel System Sales company.

USELESS TO YOU

but valuable to someone else. This means those old odd pieces of furniture, carpets, rugs, musical instruments or other articles that you have lying around or stored away.

The "someone else" are the people who are reading the For Sale columns of The Constitution. Every day they read this column looking for, perhaps, the very thing you cannot use. Offer them for sale; you will find a ready buyer and be surprised to find how quickly they can be turned into cash.

Rich's
Good Morning!

A Sale of Fine Scotch Madras

to make Atlanta homes cool and attractive.

WE don't make good madras in this country. We haven't the air and climate, the bleaching greens, nor the "know-how."

That's why we went to Scotland for our madras, incidentally saving 20 per cent over the importers' prices. This sale results: Usual

50c Madras at 40c
65 & 75c Madras 50c

—Choice of cream or white in Colonial, Scroll, Floral and Medieval patterns. All 45 inches wide.

$2 Scotch Madras Curtains $1.50

$2 is their present price; had we not imported them, they would be marked $2.50

—These are the same quality as the above madras.

—They are 36 inches wide and 2½ yards long.

—They wash and iron like linen, and do not require stretching.

—For women who prefer to buy their curtains ready made, the opportunity is golden.

New Draperies

Marquisettes Scrims
Casement Cloth Voiles

CLEAN, crisp draperies, fresh from their boxes. Bought in case lots, direct from the mill, without the burden of a wholesaler's profit. Hence our prices afford such savings as these:

Scrims 15c

Values 20c—Ecru, cream or white. Plain or with hemstitched edge.

Flowered Scrims 15c—Neat floral borders; very effective.

Georgian or Casement Cloth 15c. Fresh and pleasing as a spring nosegay. Body of white, ecru or tan; some with floral border; some with all-over Chintz pattern.

Marquisette 25c

Values 35c—A beautiful cloth with fine uniform mesh. White, cream and ecru; solid colors or with floral borders. Same styles in voiles.

All above are yard wide.

$3.98 to $5 New Crepe de Chine Silk Waists

$2.69

IN a season of tissue paper crepe de chines, it is good to know that these blouses are made of a firm, plump weight silk that will wash and wear.

—The making, moreover, is as good as the material, and the styles are new and crisp as a May day.

—There are embroidered and plain crepe de chines; box plaited and tucked; blouses with straps and buttons; waists with high or lay-down collars; shirts with convertible collars. Some with entredeaux work; some with pockets. Twelve styles in all, variously in

Sand, Putty, Flesh, Peach,
Pink, White, Maize, Gray.

Not a waist worth under $3.98; many worth to $5; choice $2.69.

Striped Crepe de Chine Waists $5.

New Bar Stripes.
Candy and Awning Stripes.

ALL black or colored stripes on white ground. Convertible collar faced with white crepe; turn back cuffs similarly faced.

Red-hot from the makers' needles—shown today for the first time. $5.00.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK SHOWS GREAT GROWTH

Augusta Gets Next Meeting. Fulton Subscribes $1,500 of $5,000 Fund.

By Rev. Thomas M. Elliott.

Americus, Ga., April 21.—(Special.)—Augusta secured the unanimous vote of the Georgia Sunday school convention today for the next convention to be held in that city. Other cities asking for the meeting were Macon and Rome.

In response to appeals made tonight for financial support in carrying on the work of the association for the next twelve months, more than $5,000 was assured. Fulton county pledged the sum of $1,500, which was more than $1,000 greater than any other county promised. A large number of Georgia counties have not yet been heard from, among which there will be several heavy contributors.

This hospitable and charming city is being taxed heavily to entertain the multitudes of Sunday school workers of the state who are assembled here in annual convention. All former records of attendance have been smashed, and the outlook now is that more than a hundred more are yet to come. Announcement was made today that over 1,300 registered delegates are in attendance. Last year, at Milledgeville, 870 delegates were present. It is expected that some 1,500 will have been here before the close Thursday evening.

Beginning with the rise of the sun an early morning prayer meeting was conducted by W. S. Witham, of Atlanta, and the regular sessions were again begun. Hon. W. C. Vereen, of Moultrie, presided over the morning session. Addresses were delivered in the forenoon by Mrs. H. H. Tift, of Tifton, on the subject, "What an Adult Bible Class Is Doing," and a conference on special days in the Sunday school was conducted by Dr. Marion McH. Hull, of Atlanta. Dr. Lansing Burrows, of Americus, spoke on "Half Hours With the Bible."

Workers Make Reports.

A most interesting feature of the morning was the rendering of reports of the year's work done by the employed workers of the Georgia Sunday School association. D. W. Simms, general secretary, reported that he had visited seventy-eight counties during the year past, in which sixty-nine county conventions had been held. One hundred and ten other minor conventions had been conducted by him, in which he had delivered 486 addresses, traveling 20,313 miles in the meantime. Mr. Simms stated that 102 counties in the state are now organized in the prosecution of Sunday school interests, with thirty-two counties up to the banner standard of efficiency, and four up to the gold star standard, which is the acme of organized work. The gold star counties are Allegry, Catoosa, Newton and Baldwin. Banner counties are Barrow, Bartow, Butts, Campbell, Carroll, Cherokee, Cobb, Coweta, DeKalb, Elbert, Fayette, Floyd, Fulton, Greene, Gwinnett, Habersham, Haralson, Jasper, Jeff Davis, Jefferson, Laurens, Madison, Morgan, Pickens, Pike, Polk, Putnam, Spalding, Ware, Warren and Wilcox.

Miss Daisy Magee, elementary superintendent of the state association, and Miss Flora Davis, assistant secretary, also made excellent reports. As editor of the official organ of the state association Miss Davis reported that the paper had doubled its circulation in the year and is now self-supporting.

Work Shows Big Growth.

Interesting features of the workers' reports showed the remarkable growth of the organized Sunday school work in Georgia during the past year or so. Georgia's increase in population the past year has been 21,828, while the Sunday school enrollment in the state has increased 17,781, making a again in population of 1 2-5 per cent, and in Sunday school enrollment of 3½ per cent. In two years the number of organized counties has increased from 62 to 102, while the number of annual county conventions in the same time have increased from 30 to 87, and division meetings have increased in number from 21 to 141. In two years the number of banner counties has grown from two to thirty-two, and gold star counties from none to four. Counties represented in the state conventions two previous years were fifty-six and ninety-one. This convention probably has representatives of 135 counties attending.

Other reports of the state association work were given by J. V. Wellborn, of Atlanta, treasurer; Dr. Joseph Brownton, of Atlanta, president; J. J. Cobb, of Macon, chairman of the executive committee, and A. B. Caldwell, of Atlanta, auditor.

At noon today a workers' luncheon and conference was held, in which workers of all departments in the modern school took part. Frank L. Mallary, of Macon, spoke of methods of increasing Sunday school attendance, while L. A. Witherspoon, of Atlanta, spoke of the benefits of grading the schools. John Spalding, of Atlanta, spoke of increasing the ability of the teachers, and Frank James, of Atlanta, spoke of preparing to meet the class.

The afternoon was devoted to a large number of conferences in which the workers of the many departments of the modern Sunday school gathered for special consideration of the phases of the work of interest to them. Sam Tate, of Tate, presided at the evening session of the convention, when John L. Eagan, of Atlanta, spoke of the Sunday school and service.

LESSON IN MANNERS GIVEN BERNSTORFF

by messenger to Count von Bernstorff late today, and by arrangement with the German embassy the state department made it public tonight.

Text of Note to Von Bernstorff.

The text of the note follows:

"Excellency: I have given thoughtful consideration to your excellency's note of the 4th of April, 1915, inclosing a memorandum of the same date, in which your excellency discusses the action of this government with regard to trade between the United States and Germany and the attitude of this government with regard to the exportation of arms from the United States to the nations now at war with Germany.

"I must admit that I am somewhat at a loss how to interpret your excellency's treatment of these matters. There are many circumstances connected with these important subjects to which I would have expected your excellency to advert, but of which you make no mention, and there are other circumstances to which you do refer which I would have supposed to be hardly appropriate for discussion between the government of the United States and the government of Germany.

"I shall take the liberty, therefore, of regarding your excellency's references to the course pursued by the government of the United States with regard to interferences with trade from this country such as the government of Great Britain have attempted, as intended merely to illustrate more fully the situation to which you desire to call our attention, and not as an invitation to discuss that course.

Giving Light to Von Bernstorff.

"Your excellency's long experience in international affairs will have suggested to you that the relations of the two governments with one another cannot wisely be made a subject of discussion with a third government, which cannot be fully informed as to the facts, and which cannot be fully cognizant of the reasons for the course pursued. I believe, however, that I am justified in assuming that what you desire to call forth is a frank statement of the position of this government in regard to its obligations as a neutral power. The general attitude and course of policy of this government in the maintenance of its neutrality I am particularly anxious that your excellency should see in their true light.

"I had hoped that this government's position in these respects had been abundantly clear, but I am, of course, perfectly willing to state it again. This seems to me the more necessary and desirable because, I regret to say, the language which your excellency employs in your memorandum is susceptible of being construed as impugning the good faith of the United States in the performance of its duties as a neutral. I take it for granted that no such implication was intended, but it is so evident that your excellency is laboring under certain false impressions that I cannot be too explicit in setting forth the facts as they are, when fully reviewed and comprehended.

United States Hasn't Yielded.

"In the first place, this government has at no time and in no manner yielded any one of its rights as a neutral to any one of the present belligerents. It has acknowledged, as a matter of course, the right of visit and search and the right to apply the rules of contraband of war to articles of commerce. It has, indeed, insisted upon the use of visit and search as an absolutely necessary safeguard against mistaking neutral vessels for vessels owned by an enemy and against mistaking legal cargoes for illegal. It has admitted also the right of blockade if actually exercised and effectively maintained. These are merely the well-known limitations which war places upon neutral commerce on the high seas. But nothing beyond these has it conceded. I call your excellency's attention to this notwithstanding it is already known to all the world as a consequence of the publication of our correspondence in regard to these matters with several of the belligerent nations because I cannot assume that you have official cognizance of it.

"In the second place, this government attempted to secure from the German and British governments mutual concessions with regard to the measures those governments respectively adopted for the interruption of trade on the high seas. This it did, not of right, but merely as exercising the privileges of a sincere friend of both parties and as indicating its impartial good will. The attempt was unsuccessful; but I regret that your excellency did not deem it worthy of mention in modification of the impressions you expressed. We had hoped that this act on our part had shown our spirit in these times of distressing war as our diplomatic correspondence had shown our steadfast refusal to acknowledge the right of any belligerent to alter the accepted terms of war at sea in so far as they affect the rights and interests of neutrals.

The Sale of Arms.

"In the third place, I note with sincere regret that, in discussing the sale and exportation of arms by citizens of the United States to the enemies of Germany, your excellency seems to be under the impression that it was within the choice of the government of the United States, notwithstanding its professed neutrality and its diligent efforts to maintain it in other particulars, to inhibit this trade, and that its failure to do so manifested an unfair attitude towards Germany.

"This government holds, as I believe your excellency is aware, and as it is constrained to hold in view of the present indisputable doctrines of accepted international law, that any change in its own laws of neutrality during the progress of a war which would affect unequally the relations of the United States with the nations at war, would be an unjustifiable departure from the principle of strict neutrality by which it has consistently sought to direct its actions, and I respectfully submit that none of the circumstances urged in your excellency's memorandum alters the principle involved. The placing of an embargo on the trade in arms at the present time would constitute such a change and be a direct violation of the neutrality of the United States. It will, I feel assured, be clear to your excellency that, holding this view and considering itself in honor bound by it, it is out of the question for this government to consider such a course.

Glad to Remove Misapprehension.

"I hope that your excellency will realize the spirit in which I am drafting this reply. The friendship between the people of the United States and the people of Germany is so warm and of such long standing, the ties which bind them to one another in amity are so many and so strong, that this government feels under a special compulsion to speak with perfect frankness when any occasion arises which seems likely to create any misunderstanding, however slight or temporary, between those who represent the governments of the two countries. It will be a matter of gratification to me if I have removed from your excellency's mind any misapprehension you may have been under regarding either the policy or the spirit and purposes of the government of the United States. Its neutrality is founded upon the firm basis of conscience and good will.

"Accept, excellency, the renewed assurances of my highest consideration.

"(Signed) W. J. BRYAN."

At the German embassy no comment was made on the note further than a statement that it had been transmitted to the foreign office at Berlin, and that as it was a reply from the American government to a communication from the German government, the embassy was without authority to say anything until instructed to do so.

MORTUARY

J. E. Rudasille, Canton.

Canton, Ga., April 21.—(Special.)—J. E. Rudasille, a confederate veteran, aged 75 years, died here today. He was well known and highly connected throughout this section, having at one time been a leading business man of this city. He was the father of J. P. Rudasille, editor of The Cherokee Advance; of Jay Rudasille, a resident of Atlanta, and vice president of Schatt & Morgan Cutlery company, Titusville, Pa., and of E. M. Rudasille, member of the city council of Canton. The other survivors of Mr. Rudasille are his wife, who was Miss Fannie Puckett; Misses Amelia and Cleva Rudasille, of Canton, and Mrs. J. M. White, of Texarkana, Texas.

Mrs. G. Bernice Baker.

Mrs. G. Bernice Baker, aged 26, died Wednesday at her residence, 40 Sydney street. The body was removed to Poole's chapel. She is survived by her husband, A. E. Baker; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Peavy, and two sisters, Mrs. J. B. Waldrip and Miss Berna Peavy.

J. A. Wilson.

J. A. Wilson, aged 79, died Wednesday at his home, 629 Capitol avenue. He is survived by his wife, two sons, O. W. and A. A. Wilson, of Atlanta, and two daughters, Mrs. William R. Harper, of Columbus, Kan., and Mrs. M. D. Seaborn, of Atlanta.

Mrs. T. D. Mathews.

Mrs. T. D. Mathews, of 435 Euclid avenue, died Wednesday at a private hospital. The body was removed to the chapel of Barclay & Brandon. She is survived by her husband.

Mrs. Ora Jane Law.

Mrs. Ora Jane Law, aged 30, died Wednesday at her residence, 155 West Baker street. She is survived by her husband, P. S. Law, and four children.

WILL TELL THE AD MEN NEED OF BETTER SCHOOLS

Mrs. R. M. Walker to Make Talk at Luncheon Today. Expect Big Attendance.

Members of the Atlanta Ad Men's club are looking forward today to the biggest as well as the most interesting noonday luncheon in the club's history, when, with the ladies who have been invited for the first time, there will be an attendance of 300 or more.

Luncheon will be served in the assembly hall of the Ansley hotel promptly at 12:30 p. m., the hour having been advanced at the request of several members. Souvenirs have been provided for the ladies, and every member of the club is expected to bring a lady interested in the subject under discussion, the school situation in Atlanta.

Mrs. R. M. Walker, president of the Atlanta School Improvement association, will deliver the talk of the day. Nobody has taken a deeper interest in Atlanta's school situation than has Mrs. Walker. Under her direction, the association, of which she is at the head, has been primarily instrumental in bringing school conditions so forcefully to the attention of council that definite and substantial improvement is promised.

Mrs. Walker will tell of school conditions as committees from the association found them, and there is no question that her appeal will elicit the interest of the Ad Men who will be glad to put their influence back of this important and much-needed improvement.

GILLY NOW READY FOR GRAND OPERA; BUYS DRESS SUIT

This picture of Mr. Gilly, the Gopher, prominent patron of Atlanta's grand opera season, is very misleading; in fact, extremely misleading.

Just a casual glance at this picture would lead one to believe that Mr. Gilly is trying to put one over—that he, one of the elite, is about to palm himself off on the audience in last season's evening dress.

Perish the thought! Heavens, yes! Banish it utterly!

This picture ranks as a work of great art by reason of the fact that it is not readily interpreted without deep thought upon its meaning.

What this picture really means is not that Gilly is trying on the dress suit he wore last year to see whether he can squeeze through on it again this year. Quite otherwise.

Here's what this picture means:

He has just made the rounds of every haberdashery in the city, and has decided upon the finest, most stylish and most expensive suit he could find!

Jack and Bob say:

We All Do It

We all actually wear clothes on account of what others will say or think.

If we know we look good to others it makes us feel good ourselves.

Fact, isn't it?

You can feel justly proud of one of our "built-in-value" $35.00 suits—you'll look good and feel good, too.

Our Gents' Furnishings are as stylish as Fashion decrees or Good Taste suggests.

We are closing out our Haberdashery end—everything reduced 25 per cent.

Men Who Drink Have Rights

It is the RIGHT of every man who drinks to know that "alcohol is poison," that it causes a diseased condition of the system from which there is no escape until the poison is eliminated. He has the RIGHT to know that the Neal Treatment will eliminate this poison and restore him a healthy man to his home, family and business in a few days. It is your right and duty to tell him about the easy "Neal Way" at home. ATLANTA NEAL INSTITUTE, 229 Woodward Ave. (Main 2795), of again enjoying the RIGHTS of a free man as he did before he took his first drink. Call, write or phone for full information.

Business Losses
caused by an imperfect accounting system

Such losses cost many businesses each year far more than would the services of a qualified Certified Public Accountant.

As evidence of this statement, few, if any, of those firms who have employed this service ever go back to previous systems.

They employ the service year after year because it continues to be profitable.
